

WE NOMINATE

Stanley Stein, 17-year old professor of history at Princeton University and director of its newly inaugurated Latin American Studies Program, who in these troubled times understands that "we must try to see Latin America from the inside and not the outside." It is his contention, as the United States continues to ponder the unity and diversity of the Hemisphere it has dominated for the past 150 years, that the Federal Government and a few institutions are gradually awakening to the need that somehow or other "we must create a corps of area specialists capable of coping with Latin America, particularly in the long-neglected areas of economics, sociology and political science."

Backed by a $1,000,000 grant from the Henry L. and Grace Doherty Foundation of New York, Stein, following in the footsteps of Dana Gardner Munro, is concerned with bringing Latin American studies from the wilderness to the fringes of the promised land. At long last, he emphasizes in directing a program which has enrolled 17 juniors and seniors, "we are moving from the broad and unfortunately superficial studies to more intensive national monographs; the competent scholars must carry out their research in loco. Put another way, specialists are more convinced that 'each country has to be treated in its own right,' that Latin America must enter the scholar's flesh and bone through practical field experience."

In Stein's view one of the most interesting, exciting and attractive aspects of this undertaking is the program which enables qualified undergraduates to receive grants covering a summer's research "South of the Border." This past summer three students working separately in Mexico probed such areas as collective farms, legalized Mexican farm workers in the U.S. and Mexican politics. A fourth, in Brazil, worked with one of that nation's presidential aspirants. "The approach," Stein stresses, "must be not as rich cousins toward provident relations, but as colleagues humbly engaged in the great struggle for human decency and fulfillment everywhere."

A Princetonian since 1953, the Manhattan-born Stein is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the City College of New York. Service as a communications officer with the World War II Navy was followed by advanced study at Harvard where he received his advanced degrees and was a Research Fellow of the Center of Entrepreneurial History prior to his Princeton appointment in 1953. Here, specializing in 18th and 19th century Latin American affairs and digging deeply into Mexican and Brazilian history, he has risen rapidly through faculty ranks.

Stein, the father of three, whose wife, the former Barbara Ballou Hadley, is an able economist as well as Bibliographer for Latin America in the University Library, has been playing a key role in shaping the Princeton Council for International Studies that is concerned with strengthening the University's programs in foreign and international affairs. A prodigious worker, whose research interests have focused on such themes as "Merchant and Monarch in New Spain and Spain: A Study of Spanish Imperial Policy in a Revolutionary Era," Stein is the author of major works on the economic history of Brazil.

For seeking to achieve understanding of the vitally important area he and his associates are dedicated to study; for pointing out "we must have no parti pris, no axe to grind, except the search for profound understanding of the past and present of Latin America; for helping others to see that Latin America is no longer a "dark continent," he is our nominee as

TARGET: PHS PARKING
As Ordinance Is Approved,
Grieved but philosophical Township ambassadors to the Borough listened Tuesday night as Borough Council passed the new ordinance regulating parking on streets all over town.

The township, in the person of Engineer Frank Quinby and Traffic Safety Committee Chairman Henry J. Frank, indifferently asked the new two-hour parking limit on Moore, Jefferson, Houghton, Hawthorne and parts of Franklin streets around the high school.

"This ordinance won't solve the problem," protested Mr.
Quinby to Council, "it will just push the high school cars from these Borough streets into the Township—or, for that matter, into other Borough streets."

"You are trying to force the Township to make the same move," Mr. Frank added.

In a chorus that might almost have been rehearsed, Borough Councilmen and Borough Mayor Henry S. Patterson, grinned and said, "Yes!
That's exactly what we want you to do!"

Don't Drive, Mayor Patterson gave a brief history of nagging troubles around the high school, and reminded Messrs. Quinby and Frank that the Borough had discus-ed the problem over a long period of time not only with the present Superintendent of Schools, Philip McPherson, but also with his predecessor, John McKenna, and other school officials.

"We're aware that what you say is absolutely correct, about cars being pushed farther a way by this new ordinance," explained Mayor Patterson.
"We hope school authorities get together on driving permits for high school drivers.
We feel we must push the word—don't forget we've had tremendous opposition from residents to this all-day parking by high school students."

Mr. Frank shrugged, "Township residents haven't complained about high school parking on Township streets," he observed, "but they may begin to complain, after this ordinance pushes the cars our way."

Mr. Frank then added that personally, he didn't think it was so dreadful to have cars parked in front of your house during school hours.

"This ordinance would prohibit parking six days a week

THE STORY OF CHRISTMAS, ever fresh in the telling, was retold this week in the Christmas pageant held by the lower school at Princeton Day School. Participants included Donna Bauer as Mary, Oliver Roberts as Joseph, and from
angels.

and all summer long and vacations, too—what about home owners during those times who can't park all day in front of their own houses or have guests?

Where Is Parking Land?
Hope that the Princeton Regional Board of Education will provide more parking, for teachers as well as students, was expressed by the mayor and several councilmen, although Mr. Quinby said school officials had told him they didn't know where they'd find land for off-street parking.

Councilman William Walker reminded the Township envoys that the parking proposals had been discussed back in May at a joint meeting at Borough Township Traffic Safety Committee. He suggested the Township might pass its own ordinance relating parking on school streets.

Two others objecting to the new ordinance were Morris Forer and The Peacock Inn.

Mr. Forer's pharmacy is on Witherspoon Street, and customers can now park directly in front of it. Under the new ordinance, parking will be shifted to the other side of Witherspoon, and Mr. Forer felt Council that customers coming up from Princeton Hospital or the Medical Arts Building would have to travel a circuitous, out-of-the-way route to get back to his store and park to buy prescriptions.

The Peacock Inn objected to the elimination of all parking on Baynard Lane including the strip in front of its front door.
The new ordinance eliminates about six to ten parking spaces in front of the Inn.
Two-hour parking remains around the corner on Bodin-Street, the Inn was reminded,
A. C. Reeves Hicks, appearing as counsel for the Inn, asked that the Borough's parking ban be limited to the rush-hour traffic times of late afternoon.

C. Harrison Hill Jr., for Princeton University, didn't protest, but he did ask Council to protect University campus entrances on University Place when parking is shifted from west to east side.
Borough engineer Thomas Cawley assured Mr. Hill that the Borough will work with the University in laying down curb-side parking.

"Yes," Unanimously. When it came to the vote, Councilman Charles Cornforth offered an amendment to eliminate the Witherspoon situation that alarms Mr. Forer, but nobody offered a "second" to his motion, so the proposed amendment died.
The ordinance, amended slightly to erase various typographical errors and succeeded 5-0. Councilman Robert

Christmas Fund Needs Your Help

(From the 1967 Town Topics Christmas Appeal)

ABANDONED

"It was late on a stormy Friday afternoon when a sixteen year old woman called, stating we have no more food and my baby is awfully ill. Abandoned by the man who had pledged his love and forced from her home by a bitter man, Miss C. had used her meager savings to buy drugs for month-old Carol. She was given emergency funds and arrangements were made for a doctor's care.

"During the next several days this bewildered, child-like mother, with a grade school education and literally overwhelmed by filling out the forms required for welfare care, was guided through the valley of despair by a skilled worker who made possible the operation that saved the baby's life.

"Today Miss C. is able, for the first time I remember, to face up to her problems and to talk about goals for herself and Carol. She has learned how to care for her child, is gaining self-respect in managing on her own, and is completing her high school education at home in anticipation of becoming self-sufficient when the baby is a little older.

Every case publicized by TOWN TOPICS has been verified by the Family Service Agency, under whose supervision all contributions to the Fund are used. Every cent goes to aid the cases described in the annual appeal.

The 21st TOWN TOPICS has made to the Princeton community.

The sum currently at hand is $337.35. A greater need than at any time in the past exists today—checks should be made payable to the Town Topics Christmas Fund, mailed to P.O. Box 664, Princeton, or brought to a Mercer Street.

Hendry was absent. It will take effect in about a month, after Council passes the necessary ordinance to take care of the parking meters involved, and after the state has given its approval.

Air Brook Limousine, Inc. scheduled to play "me too" in the name of Airport Limousine, didn't send anyone to Council. Council voted to reject Air Brook's application without prejudice, since Council has already given its approval to another airport limousine firm.

In other business, Council heard that Robert S. Davidson has been elected 1967 Fire Chief, succeeding Richard H. Wood, and set Wednesday, December 27, at 4 p.m., as the time to pass on the request of the American Legion Post 218 for a club liquor license to be used at its clubhouse. 26 Little neighbors interested are invited to attend the meeting and to speak.

Another Legion Post—Number 76—presented to Council its proposal to re-landscape the small battle memorial at the intersection of Mercer and Nassau. Charles R. Erdman Jr., joined by landscaper architect Russell Butler, estimated $14,000 for masonry work plus $1,500 for planting and asked whether the Borough would enter to fold the bill. Council will consider.

SVETLANA ARRIVES
May Make Home Here. Svetlana Allihueva, daughter of Joseph Stalin, is considering the possibility of becoming a permanent resident of Princeton. She is currently a visitor for the holidays, and has been seen strolling about the community.

While no confirmation of the identity of her hosts has been forthcoming, she is believed to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Kennan of 146 Hodge Road. Whereas Edward S. Greenbaum of 104 Mercer Street, who last week confirmed for TOWN TOPICS her plans to visit here, said that she would not be staying with him and his wife, Mrs. Kennan merely commented that "I have guests staying with me all the time, and I never give out their names."

Both Mrs. Kennan and Mr. Greenbaum indicated that Mrs. Allihueva may take up permanent residence here. Mr. Greenbaum remarked that "I like the town... she wants a place to work and write." Mrs. Kennan commented that "she might, if she has peace and quiet and isn't pestered too much."

The Kennans and the Greenbaums were instrumental in Mrs. Allihueva's arrival in this country, following her decision to seek political asylum from her native Russia. She had known Mr. Kennan while he was U.S. Ambassador in Moscow, and both he and Mr. Greenbaum went to Switzerland last March to facilitate her trip to the United States. Shortly thereafter, Mr. Greenbaum returned with the manuscript of her memoirs, subsequently published here and abroad.

Mrs. Allihueva first came to Princeton last May as a guest of the Greenbaums. She is cur-

$15,500 IS STOLEN

From Princeton S. L. Thieves broke into a vault at the Princeton Savings and Loan at 19 Chambers Street last week and escaped with $15,500. Borough Chief Peter J. McMahon reported that "just under" $5,500 was in cash and $10,000 was in travelers' checks. In addition, $25 in petty cash was taken from a safe in the second floor office of Marketing Communications Research Center.

On Tuesday, the Savings Association told police that one of its leather and canvas mailbags was also missing. Chief McMahon said that the two-foot long bag could have been used to help carry the loot away.

"We've checked all around.

the building and in the block L. We questioned everybody in the building but we have nothing substantial to go on," said Chief McMahon. The theft is still being investigated by Detective Robert McAvonia and Sgt. Theodore Lewis of the Borough and by the FBI. The Federal Savings and Loan Deposit Insurance Corporation insures deposits up to $15,000 each—the reason for the province of the FBI in the case.

Chief McMahon reported the robbers had first tried to reach the vault by breaking through the ceiling overhead. However, they were unable to chisel through the poured concrete ceiling. "They would have needed air hammers to get through that," he said.

Undaunted, the thieves successfully entered the Savings and Loan vault by breaking through a side wall composed of cinder block. They cut under overhead alarm wires embedded in the wall, which were of such heavy construction. Chief McCrohan said, that despite the digging, none of them broke. Employers arriving for work at 8:30 Friday morning discovered the theft.

The Princeton Savings and Loan is marking its 50th anniversary this year. Its assets exceed $16 million.

FIRE DESTROYS ROOM
Cigarette Blamed. Fire, believed caused by a smoldering cigarette, destroyed a living room and its contents at 12 Linden Lane. A general alarm was sounded Sunday morning at 1:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt were treated for smoke inhalation at Princeton Hospital. A couple with a small baby living in an apartment upstairs, Mr. and Mrs. Wolfgang Knutman, first smelled the smoke and called the fire department. Mr. Knutman received a small cut on his hand.

Fire Chief Richard H. Wood reported that all the furniture in the living room was destroyed. The walls, floor and ceiling were badly scorched and there was considerable water and smoke damage. The fire itself was confined to the living room.

First on the scene were Sgt. Michael Caraveale and Pst. Stanley Donald, who emptied three water extinguishers on the blaze to help contain it until firemen arrived. Mr. Schmidt told them he tried to extinguish the fire himself but it got out of his control.

To move of all!

How wet did we get from Sunday night until noon Tuesday? Well, the 2.5 inches of rain that fell pushed the total December precipitation to well over three inches, more than normal for the entire month.

The current mild spell will linger for a day or two, but may be the springboard for a damp weekend. Rain, not snow, the Man thinks, if it does develop.

The previous night firemen from Engine No. 3 firehouse on Chambers Street, were up 10:43 a.m. fighting a fire in the compressor room at Princeton Inn. Piled sheets and towels had ignited, fallen, and ignited apartment upstairs. Mr. and Mrs. Wolfgang Knutman, first smelled the smoke and called the fire department. Mr. Knutman received a small cut on his hand.

The alarm was sounded at 2:37 a.m.

THAT KINGSTON BRIDGE
It's Under Study Again. Members of the Township Planning Board were scheduled to meet Tuesday afternoon with representatives of David Goldberg State Transportation Commissioner, to talk about the proposed new Kingston Bridge and its intersection with a 92 A Loop Road.

Also on the extra-curricular agenda for the Township Planning Board is a meeting this Thursday at 8 in Hopewell Township Hall, with the Hopewell Township Planning Board.

Up for discussion will be Hopewell's projected new zoning ordinance. Hopewell invited Princeton Township to attend.

Remoting in Hopewell touch is Princeton Township only peripherally: where the two Townships touch, Hopewell will still have a one and one-half acre residential zone.

TOWNSHIP TO APPEAL
to "Longridge" Case. Township Committee unanimously decided to ask the State Supreme Court to review the "Longridge" paving case.

Last month, the Appellate Court of State Superior Court ruled that Longridge Builders, Inc., does not have to pave a street in the Point of Woods development near Hopewellton Road.

Longridge sued, after Township Committee and the Planning Board ruled that the building had to pave 361 feet of Woods Way Extension to connect with Autumn Hill Road, even though the footage is outside the development.

AM AHL AND HIS MOTHER: The contemporary Christmas classic, "Amahl and the Night Visitors" will be sung by a Columbus Boychoir cast next Thursday, December 21, in McCarte.

News Of The THEATRES
READY, DANCERS?
"Nutcracker" Coming.
Guests artists and members of the regular company will join in the McCarte Theatre.
Princeton Ballet Society production of the Christmas fairy-tale, "The Nutcracker," to be given in McCarte this weekend.
Matinees are sold out, but tickets are still available for opening night, this Friday at 8:30.
Leading dancers will be soprano artist Ramon Segura, as the Cavalier, Phyllis Papa
as the Sugarplum Fairy, Dorothy Pettit as the Dewdrop Fairy, Isobel Johnson as the Snowflake Queen, guest dancer
Bryan Poir as the Snowflake Prince and Alice Laurosch and Kathy Richards in the "Snowflake" variation.
Divertissements in the second act will be danced by Sandra Mule, Sherry Kaplan, Kathy Richards, Sally Yard
and Judy Leviton. Daniel Rubin will be the Prince, Jo-Rosina the Nutcracker and Debbie Smith the Toy Doll.
Technikowsky's ballet tells the story of a little girl named Clara, who takes her on a journey at a Christmas party. That night, she dreams of a battle between toy soldiers, captained by her nutcracker doll, and a horde of wicked mice.
Joining the battle, she saves the nutcracker and in grate-itude, he takes her on a journey to the kingdom of the Sweets. Here she meets dancing sugarplums, dancing mar-zipan dolls, candy canes and flowers.

"AM AHL" COMING Carols, too. "Amahl and the Night Visitors," the first opera written especially for television, will be sung next Thursday, December 18, in McCarte by singers from the Columbus Boychoir.
A matinee has been sold out,
but tickets for the 8:30 evening performance are still available at the McCarte box office. The singing of traditional and modern carols by the Boychoir will round out the program.
"Amahl," written by Gian-Carlo Menotti and given its premiers on Christmas Eve, 1951, tells the story of Amahl,
a poor crippled shepherd boy,
and his mother.
The Three Kings, on their journey to see the Christ Child, stop at Amahl's hut to rest.
The gold they are carrying to the Child is stolen, but a miracle occurs and by the end of the opera when the Kings leave the peasant hut, the glow of the miracle is all over.
ENTER, TRIANGLE
With 79th Extravaganza. The 19th Triangle show, which will return to enliven the McCarte stage New Year's Day after and eight-city national premiere, is a festival of lunacy.
At no point is "Enter, Venus" in danger of making any sense whatsoever. It does have a plot — but only just barely. What it does have in common are sentimental songs, extravagant dances, bad jokes, worse puns, female impersonations and a balmy leg kick-line all synthesized with a zany exuberance which is the essence of Triangle.
It is impossible to criticize Triangle show, for Triangle defines any standard of judgment. It revels in its own tri-ness and makes a virtue of thrift.
It would, however, be a mistake to reproach Triangle for lacking a theme. "Enter, Venus," like its predecessors, is a gleeful celebration of the triumph of good over evil, innocence over sophistication, stupidity over cunning. The moral dilemma it describes

Psychic! Leprechauns!
The forces of good in "Enter, Venus" are doubly by Phyllis Daitzman, a bubbly housewife who possesses as fairy godmother to a quartet of immigrant Ukrainians, look like psychic leprechauns. Mrs. Daitzman has a secret recipe for husbands, hitherto unappreciated by anyone but herself, which allows people to be the otherwise invisible Venusians.
The forces of evil, as and as ever to take over the world, are quick to appreciate the potential of the routine recipe. Thus, Senator George Smoot, racketeer Hoff Me Quillane and Alice Daitzman, Phyllis's treacherous daughter, plot to take power out of it.

What ensues after this has been established is not exactly really care. During the course of the routine, the players find excuses to mock physical fitness, satires, right wing groups, radio interviewers and the U.S. Senate.
Everything ends in a spectacular chase scene in silent film style. Donald Field's enormous lighting techniques and the music Dan Epstein has culled from old silent

Humor a Bit Thin. The humor of "Enter, Venus" is thinner than it has been in the past, but the songs are definitely up to standard. Among the funniest is a moving hymn by Barry Miles with lyrics by Max Kerpelman urging "No Slithead for Guam."
The most dramatic is the villain's theme song, "Fold, Bend, Spindle and Maltate," composed by Dan Epstein with lyrics by Kerpelman. Bill Bowers and Marcus Burke.

The cast is high spirited and effective. Granville Burgess has an authentic boyish decent and a pixyish nervousness which make him perfect for Phyllis. Geoff Peterson contributes a funny performance as Alice and George Cowen is amusing as the heavyweight heroine, Peaches Poul.

Director Milton Lyon succeeds in sustaining the show's frenetic pace with inventive staging, and Peter Hamilton's choreography is impressively ridiculous. Jean Vaughn deserves credit for the colorful costumes.

William H. Simon
PLAYHOUSE

Ulysses (now playing) returns for a week-long engagement. Skill and imagination have been used effectively to bring "Enter, Venus" to work to the large screen. The result is such that it will please selective adult audiences.

For those unfamiliar with the literary contribution, the two hour film is in reality a character study rather than a full fledged story. The camera dwells on a number of people, each of whom is picturesque and intriguing. Each contributes mightily to the end result, which may shock some and contribute to controversy.

All of the action takes place in a single day and night in Dublin during the early part of this century. Miss O'Shea is excellent in the lead role of Leopold Bloom, a Jew who has an uneasy life in Catholic Ireland. Barbara Jefford is his wife Molly, and Maurice Rees appears as Stephen Dedalus, a poet and teacher, generally accepted as a counter part of Joyce himself.

During the course of the day, Bloom goes to a funeral, gets into an argument with a bigot in a pub, carouses with a group of young men, including the poet, and they visit a brothel. He brings Dedalus back to his house for a night.

cap. Meanwhile, the indolent Molly spends the day in bed, part of the time with her lover.
It is the reveries and thoughts of the Joyce character that ooze and the film concentrates its greatest attention on two episodes: Bloom's fantasies while in the brothel and Molly's famous soliloquy while she sits in bed at night. The handling of Molly's reveries, which runs for almost 30 minutes, is brilliant. Miss Jefford reads the long monologue eloquently, including all the notorious erotic passages, and director Joseph Strick accompanies the words with imagery that has been chosen with extraordinary imagination. The brothel scene accents Bloom's obsession with sex and guilt that the film accompanies it by means of a combination of satire and slapstick.

Adult audiences will find the language forthright. The subject matter is creatively presented, but not pornographically paced.

GARDEN

The Birds, the Bees and the Italians (now playing) is a three-part comedy with adultery as the common theme. The film, by producer-director-writer Pietro Germi, won an award at Cannes last year.

Germi, whose two biggest hits to date are "Divorce-Italian Style" and "Seduced and Abandoned," has loosely joined the two of tales by having some actors appear in each of the same characters.

Best of the three is the second episode which stars Virna Lisi. It demonstrates how difficult it is to beat the system, in this instance the illegality of divorce in Italy. Gastone Moschin plays a bank clerk married to a shrewish wife. He falls in love with a café cashier (Miss Lisi) and woo her. At first they meet secretly; then he decides to flout the affair in the open. All the forces of convention and morality are brought to bear on him to cease his transgression by clergy, employer, wife and relatives.
Germi's handling of this material is typically satiric, and some of it is quite funny. Moschin has a nice clownish air that fits the role and Miss Lisi is appealing.

In the last episode it is demonstrated that you CAN beat the system. Five men who have individually seduced a pretty girl who looks older than her 16 years are brought to court by her father. The wife of one of the men bribes

IT'S NEW To Us

A STAR GOES ON TOP
Of Any Tree. Begin from the top when you decorate your Christmas tree and put a shiny star on the highest branch.
Then spread out all over the house with the merriest and prettiest decorations you can find.

Some stores make almost a specialty of Christmas, and you know already about The Cummings Shop and Country Mouse and Happy Hecty with their gleaming, bursting Christmas displays. Other shops may surprise you with their contributions to the season.

Well, we could begin with Cummings' 15-inch cloth-of-gold angel, to stand in stately splendor on your best mahogany table. Your candle from Cummings might be the giant white and gold one, with a trumpet-angel in the carved grotto of its center.

A red wooden sleigh at Cummings snaps open to reveal a revue of your arrangements of greens. A splendid globe about five inches across allows half of its sphere to be clear glass, showing you one-inch ceramic figures inside surrounded with greens and gold. The back half of the sphere is a spangle of midnight sky. $12.

Musical boxes at Cummings, of course, mostly with charming little figures. And not just Christmas, either: one music-box plays "Mack the Knife!"
For entertaining, Cummings has three-inch cylinder match boxes with sils antas on the outside and for reminding people it's Christmas, a card-four of "ereced earnde studs: stars,

Please Drop In for a Light Punch

Christmas entertaining is fun and so is the giving of household presents to families who enjoy entertaining. Begin with . . .

Naime punchbowl. The lovely soft silver lustre of Naime makes a shimmering bowl for punch (use it for soup, too). Comes with ladle, at The Country Mouse.

Serving cart. A maple tea-wagon at The Rug Mart, with silverware and a shadow bowl of fruit painted on its drop-leaf, would be a lovely Christmas server in the glow of candle and pine, $124.95.

Plaid elephant lighter. Gorham's silver lighter ($5) holds THREE ounces and goodness knows how many pink elephants. LaVake.

Red patent ice-bucket. Shiny, in red black or royal petrel, these ice-buckets are bright-eyed party helpers, at The Cummings Shop.

Christmas tray. And bowl to match in fiberglass with red holly design, $4.35 each. At Stines, next to the all-linen cloth with four holly wreaths.

Whiskey "well." Some wells draw water, this one . . .
Let's just say it's high-spirited. $7.98 at Urken's.

Santa tray. Santa, with cap off, lounging under a grape arbor, makes a refreshing Christmas server from Country Mouse.

Wine racks. And a fantastic amount of glassware for you to fill at Happy House.

Holly throw-aways. Eight holly-decorated plastic glasses will keep you from dishwashing after the party. At Hinkson's.

Bottle opener. Host's helper: a single tool to slab olives, open bottles, slice the gin. Walnut handle, $4.50 at Princeton Gift.

24 for the road, 24-cup coffee maker at Johnson Electrics, to speed the parting. $24.95.

Country Mouse and Happy House have relatively the same happy idea this Christmas: instant candles. At Country Mouse, you buy a $1.25 box of granulated wax and pour the granules into a champagne glass, a low dish, or whatever, producing your own individual candle.
Comes in colors associated with the fragrance.

At Happy House, Pour Yourself a Candle is a liquid certain beeswax, with a wick
you cut to any length you want.
Bayberry green, hollyberry
red, orange-blossom gold, pale blue. Flambouyants are liquid candles to use around arrangements, giving you ten hours of flame per ounce of solid oil. You add water and oil, and pour into any container.

Country Mouse's velvet orbs are perfectly plain color, warm claret, subtle olive or a spicy mustard, to hang on a tree.
Think "hot bunch is great big holly? It's crabbable with holly leaves, in that same dark red "velvet."
Lots of wrappings at Happy House, including high-fashion papers in pink palette or hot flower. We like the 12-

Let's Give the House a Present

Sometimes your present is a big investment gift for your house. Sometimes you'd like to give a memorable household gift to someone close to you.

Small Oriental Rug. Bahadur's two-foot-by-two-foot Persian Ispah in pastel on beige, with birds and flowers.

Chest for silver. Cane's, near Lambertville, has a walnut or pine silver chest 44 inches high, seven drawers, designed from an old stool cabinet.

Stage dormate. Leave footprints behind on Remnant King's mottled grey, brown, white dormate. $1.99.

Barcelona chair. Viking Furniture has a $300 copy of the famous Mies chair: chrome with black vinyl.

Revolving tureen. Silver, from 1870, with cover that revolves out of light underneath, platter pierced to catch the cullet drippings, pan for hot water. At The Silver Shop.

Victorian rocker. A deer little fussy Victorian platform rocker, upholstered in sprigged tapestry, is at Ivy Manor, cute as can be.

Quinn Bee chairs. We call them that because they are high-backed and throne-shaped, one with a very tall back and cushions, the other for a dumper queen for a plumper queen? Both in antiqued gold on a natural burl, the other in cream satin, at Manning's.

Italian chair. Exquisitely small Italian provincial chair in rubbed walnut, hand-carved in Italy with deep brocade cushions. $27, at Newco Interiors, with fabric choice. Lovely in pale blue brocade.

Swivel rocker. Winged with olive tweed and pleated skirt, trim and practical, at Rug Mart.

Tiffany glass. Stemware from America's glass genius: goblets, liquors, vases, accessory pieces, to start a Tiffany collector on his way at Princeton Antiques.

Blanket chest. Old and real, from Pennsylvania Dutch country, one divided into hinged sections another with original decorations, at Country Antiques.

Dog bed. He sleeps, too, doesn't he? Rosedale Mills.

we find lovely hand-blown German glass ornaments, so exquisitely delicate! They are clear white and colored glass eggs and Christmas balls with the design inside.

Joan Electric asks us to remind you that they have exclusive bulbs for Christmas strings!

Live Green. Let's go back to Am. Acacia for live Austrian pines, maybe the great big one for $49. Female Kolder American holly ($10-$15) or Penny holly with its tiny leaves for $1.25, or inside ivy trees, five feet tall at $11.

Wreaths at Ambleside are decorated by the lady herself, with fruits, nuts or whatever you like to use. Noble fir in this nursery is used for decorative swags and centerpieces.

At Obal's Garden Market, they like the Albert dwarf spruce as a compact table tree, with fine needles in firm little clumps — $19.98. Swiss snow dwarf pine has longer needles and more stem.

The Norfolk Island pine you buy at Cunningham's Nursery near Lambertville, will make a lovely house plant after the season, and you can decorate it as a small Christmas tree.

Applegate's on Palmer Square has two shows: one real and one fake. At the real one, there is gold tipped cedar in loose greens for decoration, bunches of birch wood, and swags made of Douglas fir, holly and that gold-tipped cedar, branches of fragrant balsam can go anywhere.

Ropes of laurel or pine come by the yard at Applegate (enough to make a dress?) and mistletoe is real, real.

At the other Applegate shop, you can find anything made. We like a charming little green table centerpiece of mixed greens and the small arrangements you can tuck into a shy corner.

Who Has Feathers? While we're out with the greens, let's look at the bird feeder, at both Ambleside and Rosedale. The "Leward" birdhouse, the one that turns with the wind to keep birds out of the weather, and to keep snow from covering the bird-seed and sharp wind from blowing it away. The feeder has plexiglass on three sides, and stands on a pole. $12.95.

Audubon recommends to Ambleside a round wire cage to hang for birds up to, but not including, cardinals. Stor's in Hopewell recommends to you a covered-bridge bird house, at $9.95.

Rosedale Mills is obsessed with keeping squirrels and Great Big Birds out of bird-feeders. They have a "selective" (i.e., "get out!") feeder for small birds, 16 inches square, with $2.98 paying for the aluminum pole you put it on.

A brown metal feeder for $8.95, is engineered to close when a heavy bird or a squirrel lights on it.

Come and Get It! Another Rosedale feeder is shaped like a wooden barn, and is really immense: holds 15 pounds of bird-seed, and costs $14.95. But you can have a nice little feeder for only $1.39, to fasten on a pole.

Buy a penny cake for your favorite timonae, a bell of seed for a cardinal, a Christmas stocking for your pygmy deer (squeaky lambchop, ball of bells, cheese stick, bob marlini, $1.25).

Go back to Obal's and collect for your gardener, a garden knife by Wilkinson Sword, double-bladed for pruning, cut, etc. $8.95.

Go back to Princeton Gift and collect the gardener's Bonneywell rain gauge, $5, like a bud cane vase.

was unanimous, the Township has no absolute right to appeal, according to John Wallace, member of both Committee and the Planning Board; however, the Township can petition the Supreme Court to consider the matter.

THORNE'S TARGET

Of Shoplifters. Two shoplifters stole a transistor radio Saturday from Thorne's Drug Store on Nassau Street.

Police said that a clerk who saw them take it and chased them down Vandewater Avenue before losing them described the two as Negroes, both about six-feet and 165 pounds. One was wearing dark glasses. No value was placed on the radio.

In other thefts last week, Steven Schnatterly of Hibben Apartments reported the loss of a tire and wheel from his car parked on Walnut Lane. William Warren, president of Dial Lodge on Prospect Avenue, reported the theft of seven pool cues — it had had 10 stolen the week before, and police listed the theft of two meter heads on University Place.

This is the time of year for all sorts of petty thefts, especially packages from parked cars, in the central business district, Chief Peter J. McCrohan warned. He urged everyone to lock his car.

"This is also the time for had check passers," he added. "They like this season. It's easy picking for them."

ZONERS TO PSI

Tell Us More. Before the Borough Zoning Board will approve the request of Palmer Square, Inc. for a minor subdivision of its property at 32 Nassau Street, it wants to hear more information at its next meeting in December.

Actually, PSI seeks to combine five lots at 32 Nassau into two. But instead of supplying the 34 off-street parking places on the lot itself as required by zoning law, it sought a special permit from the board to provide the parking within the allowable 400 feet on a lot it owns on Hulsich Street.

Four of the lots now comprise the Park and Shop lot, containing 94 spaces which PSI operates. It is located to the rear of the 32 Nassau Street building. PSI would like to retain this parking operation. The park and shop area

Call Santa at 924-3383

Henry Schulz, as eager and as enthusiastic as when he first became Princeton's Santa Claus 18 years ago, is ready to talk to his young public with the approach of another Christmas. The magic number is 924-3383. Parents are asked to have their children call from 5 to 7 and 7 to 8 p.m.; Santa will be there seven days a week through Christmas Eve. The blind octogenarian is still frequently seen on Nassau Street, despite occasional attacks of arthritis.

The community service, originated by TOWN TOPICS in 1949 with the proprietors of The Better Mousetrap, is now sponsored by the Women's Club of Princeton. Merchants throughout the community contribute to a fund for him each December.

comprises 84 acres. After the meeting it was revealed that PSI may convey its four-story brick building at 32 Nassau and the lot adjacent, housing Marsh's Drug Store, to an unidentified buyer. One item that concerns the Zoning Board is that the lot line between 30 and 32 Nassau cuts through the middle of the American Standard Training building behind the Nassau Street properties.

In a second case, Princeton Seminary was granted a special permit to use the former merican Legion Hall at 55

American Legion Hall at all purposes. William E. Lawden, treasurer and business manager for the Seminary, told the board, in reply to a question that the Seminary has no present plans for the use of Thomson Hall, the old H. H. Hough Hall, which it obtained two years ago in an exchange of properties.

A proposed subdivision of a lot owned by Elmer Daley, 12 Hamilton Avenue, was presented to give the plaintiff an opportunity to give and the request, as required by a recent ruling of the New Jersey courts.

SELDEN ELECTED HEAD
OF Arts Council. The seven founding members of the new Arts Council of Princeton have elected William K. Selden as president. Mr. Selden, a former college president, is now a consultant in the field of higher education.

Professor Alan Donner was elected vice president, Mrs. Mary Smith, treasurer, and Robert V. Dilley, secretary. Other founding members include Mrs. Picolette K. Faus, Mr. Nancy O'Connor, and Arthur Lathrop.

The council will serve strictly as a service organization, with its activities determined by the needs of its member organizations. Annual membership, currently being solicited, is $10 for organizational members and $10 for individuals.

The council is also prepared to undertake one or more of the following functions if requested: stimulate and encourage the study and presentation of the performing and creative arts in the Princeton region; serve as a coordinating agency for members and non-members; assist in the development of adequate housing facilities; for organizational members study and recommend Street, first on Thursday and again on Saturday.

At a special session of Borough Court last Wednesday, Edward A. Costigan, East Windsor Magistrate, fined Edward Esposto, 25, of Harris Road, $35 and placed him on six months probation. Charged as a disorderly person, Esposto was accused by police of directing loud and offensive language against Magistrate Tams during a disturbance last month at Palmer Square.

COMMITTEE SETS PLANS

On Sex Education, The Princeton Area Committee on Sex Education has scheduled its next regular meeting for Wednesday, January 16, at St.

Andrews Presbyterian Church—beginning at 8. Plans for this affair and other coming events were all settled at a recent organizational meeting of the special committee.

Also on the Committee's calendar for the coming year is a visit by Dr. Mary Calderone, director of the Sex Information and Education Council of the United States. Dr. Calderone plans to be in Princeton on April 23 and 24.

Ralph Bloom, chairman of the Sex Education Committee, announced that Dr. Calderone had asked the Committee to give her advice as to how she could best utilize the time she would be spending in Princeton. One suggestion was that a series of preliminary meetings with parents be established. Mr. Bloom also announced the addition of two new members to the Committee. They include: Robert Duncan and Mrs. R. F. Dearborn, members of the West Windsor Board of Education; Frank Walton, Superintendent of Schools in West Windsor; Robert Staples, Director of the Princeton Library; and Mrs. George E. Lewis.

Two ad hoc committees were appointed at the organizational meeting. Mrs. Jack Cooper, nurse in the Montgomery Township school system, will head a group that will survey present and planned programs in the Princeton area in the field of sex education.

The second committee, supervised by Mrs. Little Vivian Jr., will direct arrangements for Dr. Calderone's visit. Members of the committee include: Rev. Hugh Laffoon, Philip Cohn, Dr. Thomas Robbins and Dr. Douglas McClure.

PHASE II OPENS

IN YMCA-YWCA Project, The Princeton YMCA-YWCA has started the second phase of its Building Fund Drive. The Special Gifts Division opened the new phase of the campaign with an organizational meeting. Ralph S. Mason, general chairman of the drive, reminded members of the YMCA-YWCA's pressing need for a gymnasium, nursery space and club rooms.

Heading the Special Gifts Division during the campaign is the responsibility of A. C. Reeves Hicks, chairman. John P. Woolridge, associate chairman, Mrs. John T. McLoughlin, Mrs. James Kerr and Hallett Johnson, Jr., co-chairmen. Division leaders are Michael Erdman, Mrs. Walter Krausmann, Mrs. Heath Kleidiger, Mrs. Darby Houston, Eric Enderby and George Adrians. Serving under these adminis-

An Angry Animal Lover.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Animal lover that I am, when I read the letter from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hestum (TOWN TOPICS, Nov. 30) about their missing cats, I felt that possibly they were over-suspicious and maybe do not know that during the mating season, cats do roam far and for weeks, and that cats do chase blowing leaves on a road — oblivious to the danger of cars. All injured animals go away to hide, to die or to get well and come home.

And then I sat next to a man at a dance the other night who said he'd shot a cat at his bird feeder station. When he saw the look on my face, he said, "Hell, a cat's a predator, you know, and when I go gunning on my property and I see a cat, I shoot him. They kill quail and pheasant, you know."

He claimed to have shot six cats, or was it seven, this fall? What would you do about a man who shoots a cat which MIGHT kill what he himself is OUT to kill?

We Need a People Committee.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

We live in wonderful times. All sorts of automation is invented to make life easier for us. The banks use magnetic ink to their bookkeeping can be computerized and bank statements can be sent out in the middle of the month instead of at the end, which evidently everybody objected to.

There was a time you could go in a store on Nassau Street and ask for a blank check to pay your bill. Or you could go into the bank and pick up a blank check to draw out some of your money. Or you could even deposit some money in the bank by just filling out a deposit slip. But no more. Now that things have been improved, you have to use your special magnetically inked check, or your own numbered deposit slip — and please remember your account number.

The telephone company has all but eliminated human operators so that the customer will have better service. It is much easier to call San Francisco or even Portland, Ore., than it was several years ago.

But if you want to call your doctor or the police in the middle of the night, you don't just pick up the telephone. You light the light, you find your glasses, be sure to have both hands free, and wait for the dial tone.

But things are getting better. Robots on the moon can do chemical analysis. Satellites can talk to satellites.

Banks can get all their checks cleared the same day. If it only wasn't for the people.

But while there still are people, isn't anyone interested, really interested, in human beings being more human? Maybe a large bank in New York has to be automated to handle its business, but couldn't a small bank in a small community stay small and serve its customers rather than expand its corporate structure. Maybe telephone exchanges in large cities have to be automated but couldn't small community exchanges continue to give personal service to customers?

While I'm at it, I might mention traffic. Traffic systems have one aim — keep the car moving. They seldom deal with the pedestrians. There is no, repeat, no, nor on Nassau Street with a traffic light where there is a pause in the traffic for pedestrians.

ART SHOW COMING

PAA is sponsoring The Princeton Art Association will hold an art show and reception Friday from 3:30 to 5:30. On exhibit during the reception in the Association offices, 14 Nassau Street, will be the work of students in the adult art classes which were held during the fall.

Mrs. Neal W. Connor is chairman of the exhibit. Under her direction, paintings were chosen for display from works completed in Buzman Tribble's watercolor course, in Peter Chapin and David Chapin's painting classes and in Margaret Johnson's visual design course.

Among those whose works will be presented are Jane Mattern to aprons, Sachinany, Jacques Franklyn, B.A. Berlin, Ruth Ann MacPherson, Lois Franklin, Ruth with a number of art works

Ramona, William Sydney Blumenthal, Betty MacArthur, George Ann Gillespie, Jane Alderson, Jean Maxwell and Betty Ann Howe. Also: Don Strasser, Jeanne Eubank, Miriam Friend, Corinne Black, Helen Benedict, Hiroko Yoshikawa and Jorg Slon.

CRAFTS FOOD ON SALE

From Around the World Families associated with the Institute for Advanced Study are sponsoring an international bake and crafts sale Saturday from 10 to 3 in Craycroft Nursery School, 131 Springfield Road.

Mrs. Marshall Cohen, chairman of the sale, has directed her collection of many hand-made, exotic items from members of the Institute community, many of whom come from various countries. These items include a varied selection of clothing ranging from sweat suits to baby dresses and from cakes and cookies together with a number of art works affair and playground supervision will be provided for small children.

DRIVE ENDING

For gift subscriptions, Friday is the deadline for buying Christmas gifts through the Princeton High School scholarship fund drive. Proceeds from the sale of the discount subscriptions go to the high school's scholarship program. Anybody wishing to purchase gift subscriptions should contact Mrs. Charles H. Plummer. Gift cards are available in two price ranges: $100 to five dollars or six to ten dollars.

Mr. William White and Mrs. Charles Bardsell, chairmen of the program, remind potential customers that the scholarship fund can match any special magazine price offered by commercial firms. Last year 12 students were given a share of the $1,000 collected in the drive.

It's no longer necessary to ponder the mysteries of buying a stereo. Mrs. G has subtracted the confusion, done the problem solving for you and then added the extra advantages for buying a stereo from Mrs. G. Here is the answer to many questions to help your selection of a stereo.

Q. How do I solve the "what features do what" dilemma?

A. Let Mrs. G's experts explain the difference.

Q. Do I get a component or component with furniture cabinet?

A. Whichever you want, Mrs. G's has them all.

Q. Can I get a concert stereo sound in a small set?

A. Yes, Mrs. G. has concert hall realism stereos in 42" sizes.

Q. Which style would fit the decor of my living room?

A. Mrs. G has cabinets to enhance any decor.

Q. Can I really afford the set I want?

A. Mrs. G has a wide range of price categories for every budget. What's more, you can take two months to pay. Instant credit.

Q. What about warranties, service, etc?

A. Mrs. G has the answers, just ask.

Q. How do I shop around when I don't have time?

A. One-stop shopping is easy with Mrs. G's selection of 48 famous brands.

Q. What kind of delivery can I have?

A. Mrs. G's famous red carpet delivery.

Q. How can I be sure of getting the right price?

A. We are a member of a 125 million dollar buying group assuring you of the lowest possible price plus shopper service to compare competitive prices.

Mrs. G's Stereo Department for people who can't stand television.

See the Sylvania SC281W stereo entertainment center

Contemporary

It has a 4-speed stereo phonograph, an AM/FM-FM-Stereo radio, plus facilities for an 8-track stereo tape deck.

In fact, it has just about everything for home entertaining except television. But then, what's entertaining about television?

After all, would you rather have Beethoven and Brahms or bullets and blood?

Of course, everything our stereo center has has the best.

For instance, the phonograph has a Dual 1015 professional automatic turntable. Plus a counter-balanced low-mass tone arm. A Pickering V15 magnetic cartridge. And a diamond stylus.

The radio and 100-watt (EIA) amplifier use transistors instead of tubes. Not just because you don't have to wait for transistors to warm up. But because transistors don't heat up like tubes. So they last longer.

The speaker system uses sealed air-suspension speakers. Because sealed air is the only way to permit speaker-cone movement on low bass notes without the usual distortion.

But probably the best thing about our components is that you can enjoy them even when you're not listening to them.

Because we just didn't bring them together. We put them together — in fine pieces of furniture.

So even if you can't stand watching television, you'll enjoy looking at Sylvania.

"Dew Near Princeton" — Watercolor by DAGMAR TRIBBLE (17)

Dagmar Tribble, of Princeton and the world, of landscapes, trees, flowers, and interiors; at exhibiting, colors and freedom, as a member of the American Watercolor Society, the highest honor awarded American watercolorists, and, above all, of glorious talent.

Come share with us the adventure of watercolor! A very special world in which to express the indefinable of Christmas shopping where you can linger for effect or finish your shopping.

A glance takes you from a glowingly rich and sunny landscape to dramatic winter scenes from droves to rodents, from city scenes to a section of college scenes that ex-compass scenes from more than 40 colleges and universities.

Displayed in permanent watercolor by the masters of the medium: Harry Leith-Brown, Lee T. King, Adelle Hephorn, Ernest Watson, Jack Givner, and George Schuyler, to name only a few that are reproduced. There are paintings to match any mood, pocket book, or collection. Treat yourself or someone very special to the particular joy of a vibrant, spontaneous, original watercolor that will increase in value with the years, or a wonderful print. Prices from $2.00 to $75.00.

waited more than an hour in the cold for the local bus to take them to work. Two New York buses passed them by, telling them that a local bus was coming, and left them standing in the cold.

There's a regulation, or something, that the New York buses can't pick up local passengers — even if they are freezing in the cold. There's a Sierra Club that worries about the Redwoods. These are civic organizations that worry about historical buildings. Who worries about the people?

Third Risk Needed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I would like to bring to the public attention the need for a third ice rink in the Princeton Area. The rinks at PDS and the University are almost constantly in use by hockey teams and the Princeton Skating Club, and very little time is given to the general public for skating.

I and many people I know all agree that a public rink open not just weekends but weekdays and nights as well, would be a good idea.

During school holidays the rink could be open during the day, which would occupy many youths who otherwise would hang around Palmer Square. If a new rink was built, the club should be kept off it, as they use two present rinks constantly.

Since the fire at the Prince complex, there is a greater need for more ice. A rink used only by the general public would draw plenty of customers, and would I think be a profitable move.

Hughes Scored on Gun Law To the Editor of Town Topics:

Following is an open letter to Governor Richard J. Hughes:

The recent theft of 60 .45 calibre automatic pistols and four .30 calibre machine guns from our National Guard Armory left me with a feeling of apprehension. What are the thieves going to do with this formidable arsenal?

Is this the groundwork for another Newark riot? Or will the perpetrators strike closer to home this time?

But then my thoughts turned to the recent events in our legislation. Laws of gun con-

The Answer's Still "No".

When the season's first snowfall caught a lot of people napping, Chief Peter J. McCroan reported that the Borough police desk was swamped with calls requesting permission to leave cars parked in the street overnight. Many of them were reasonable and legitimate," he said.

But he emphasized if the streets were to be plowed, the police cannot make any exceptions. "One car left on a narrow street like Bank," he said, "means that the entire street won't be plowed. The no-overnight parking ordinance will be strictly enforced." Any car left out will be ticketed; those left on main roads will be towed away. Chief McCroan also reminded residents that a Borough ordinance requires that all sidewalks be cleared within 12 hours of daylight after the snow stops falling. Violators are subject to $100 fine or 30 days in jail.

tool and registration. Governor Hughes, of which you personally took and whose voice cried out the loudest that our present laws were inadequate and that more drastic and stringent steps must be taken to insure our honest and law-abiding citizens that guns (including rifles, shotguns and pistols) would be kept out of the hands of criminals, incompetents, mentally disturbed persons and other undesirable elements.

Governor Hughes, will you explain to me, and perhaps to other similarly confused citizens of this state, how you are going to keep those stolen .45 calibre automatics, machine guns and rocket launchers out of the hands of the criminals, the mentally disturbed, the riot mob? Are you going to tell me the criminal who wants a gun can't buy it with your new legislation in effect? Prohibition is the trigger of crime and you and the other gun law fanatics have just squeezed the trigger.

Meanwhile, Governor, perhaps you should inform merchants of our Borough and Township — in fact, our whole state — that with the Christmas Holidays approaching they are due for the annual rash of armed holdups because of the swollen cash boxes.

Tell them that if they would like to have a permit to arm their stores against these hold ups it's too late to get one now. It takes months to process — forms to fill out, fingerprints to take and fees to collect, but if they really want a gun they need only to pass the word.

One of those stories. 45s will show up! No questions asked.

ZARKER RETIRES

From Princeton Bank & Trust, Harold E. Zarker, 114 Jefferson Road, who began a career in finance 45 years ago as an assistant credit manager of Armstrong Cork Co. has retired from the Princeton Bank & Trust Co. as senior vice president in charge of the banking division.

A reception for Mr. Zarker and his wife given by the bank's board of directors was held Wednesday at the Princeton Inn. He was presented with a plaque inscribed by each director and a gift in appreciation of his contribution to the bank's growth.

Leaving Armstrong in 1932 after progressing through various positions in two years, Mr. Zarker became a management consultant serving small businesses in the Lancaster, Pa. area. Two years later he joined the Fulton National Bank of Lancaster as auditor and then became comptroller.

He resigned in 1938 to become comptroller for P&BT, where he was subsequently elected treasurer. From 1945 until his return to P&BT in 1953 he was associated with the First National Bank & Trust Co. of Perth Amboy as vice president in charge of operations, loans and personnel. From 1953 until he reached the bank's retirement age last month, Mr. Zarker also served as secretary of the corporation.

In addition to his banking duties, Mr. Zarker served on Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers University from which he had graduated with "distinction." In 1966 he was honored by Rutgers for 25 years of service as thesis counselor and chairman of its thesis panel of examination. He also lectured at bankers' schools and seminars at several universities.

Harold E. Zarker

Stephen F. Jusick

Mr. Zarker has held positions on numerous service and charitable organizations, including the Red Cross, the American Cancer Society, the Boy Scouts and the United Fund. He plans to remain active in the field of management and finance.

OPERATION EXPANDED
By Longacres Builders, Stanley Pinshaw and Lewis Kraft of Longacres Builders, Inc. have announced plans to expand the firm's operations.

A separate organization has been formed to handle requests for custom built homes and for additions or improvements to existing homes. Longacres has built Princeton Ridge in Rocky Hill, Point of Woods on Herwinton Road and Longacres in Lawrenceville.

NEW MEMBER ADDED
To Clark, Dodge Staff, Stephen F. Jusick has joined the staff of Clark, Dodge & Co., 1 Palmer Square, as a registered representative, after completing his training at the firm's New York offices.

A 1964 graduate of Loomis College, where he was captain of the football team, Mr. Jusick received his master's degree in history from West Chester State College in 1965. He taught political science at Rider College, prior to joining Clark, Dodge.

A resident of Lawrence Township at 82 Stonicker Drive, he is president of the Lorwood Civic Association and a member of the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church.

BROCHURE COMPLETED
Illustrating Princeton, The Chamber of Commerce is circulating a brochure that will provide research and development companies considering relocation in Princeton with a definite introduction to the area. First presented as an article in "Philadelphia Magazine" three years ago, the brochure-illustrated brochure gives a detailed analysis of Princeton, pointing out its suitability for research firms.

The brochure is available to members of the Chamber and to visitors who are interested in Princeton's research and development complex. In addition, the seven companies which sponsored publication of the brochure will be given copies to mail to prospective prospects.

The Chamber undertook the venture as part of its plan to stimulate an orderly growth of Princeton through an influx of research and development firms. Copies of the pamphlet are available at the Chamber's office at 12 Nassau Street.

EXPANSION UNDER WAY
At Chemical Research, Expansion is in progress at Princeton Chemical Research, Inc. which will more than double the company's existing research and development facilities on Route 206. Totalling 18,000 square feet, the space will include laboratory areas, conference rooms, enlarged library facilities and office space. Approximately 50 additional personnel will be required to staff the facility.

MICRORECEIVER™

World's First High Fidelity
FM Radio!

Turn it on ...
Tune it in ...
Presto!—instant music!

Here is a great hi-fi system that requires absolutely no installation. It may look and operate like a conventional radio, but that is where the resemblance ends. It has all the full-bodied performance of some of the finest Fisher components in an astoundingly compact size (only 13" wide and 6 1/2" high).

Its exclusive TUNE-O-MATIC® circuit enables you to set each of the five vertical FM dials to your favorite FM stations, and thereafter select the desired station instantly, at the touch of a button. Or you can tune any station manually.

Beauswell feedback tone controls, usually found only in expensive hi-fi receivers, provide perfect bass and treble tonal balance at all volume settings, high or low. The 5 1/2" heavy duty massive-magnet loudspeaker provides full frequency response—precisely defined bass tones, crystal clear 'highs', and all without muddiness or distortion.

Come in today for a free demonstration of this remarkable high fidelity system. It's a perfect second unit for the audio enthusiast. And an excellent choice for the newcomer with a limited budget!

ART FOR ALL

Line and Color. A bit of line and color are a part of Christmas. Look at the new House's six-inch metal sports figures from Spain, spare a moment in postures for tennis, bowling, hurdles, discus.

Viking figures in from Lam, Pennsylvania. The wood carvings of George Reid field, the elegant smoothed out whale, the tall, slim cat tails for a table, and charming group of three-inch mule rooms, each one different because the wood is different.

Flowers of the Month from 18th century prints are fashioned at Nassau Interiors (like Nassau store), for $2.50 in cluding the pale gold frame they come in smaller sizes, too, but you'll like the big ones. Choose a month to mark a favorite birthday.

A South Jersey artist painted more than a century ago the mother and child at Country Antiques, in a hug, three by four foot portrait. This shop is also proud of its equestrian portrait of Garibaldi by J. F. Herring Senior, a signed and dated oil.

For another kind of collector, there are the Art Nouveau prints at Princeton Antiques. Like the turn-of-the-century calendar pages, framed to hang. At LaVake, the Cybis animals and figurines are in greater supply than ever. Here's a good, realistic rabbit with almost too bumpy warty nose, an owl, a kitchen and a donkey.

Heads of Cybis children have eyes painted in warm color against the in-que white. Peter Pan is all in color, full length, about six inches long, playing away on his pipes. Your nature-lovers will want a bluebird poised to land a flower, your balletomanes will want the charming ballet dancer.

Store shows glass figures from Murano, pairs of pheasants, birds in flight, or geese in blue and gold. At Princeton Gift, animals are clear as glass. They have a slow-mo-

Is Your Bird Cold in the Mornings?

Tired of giving the same old gift-certificate? Here are a few presents you can list in the "unusual" column. Hurdy-gurdy. From Barcelona, it plays six Spanish tunes in Spanish and is REAR at Princeton Antiques.

An insecure clock. This handsome little gold-framed clock at LaVake's has a small workable hour-glass right in the same frame.

Household. It will enable you to receive UHF, FM, color and even the neighbors' kids fighting next door. Tiger Auto has from Winegard, and they have excellent play-back from customers about how good it is.

Infused pillows. Blow up lately? Visking Furniture has sturdy plastic pillows just like balloons. One is clear plastic with white polka-dots another is green with clear plastic dots. Another is secretively opaque.

1825 hobby horse. At Country Antiques, the horse goes along with some old, old doll-houses of collector calibre. One is a country hotel and another a town house.

Colored table. Choose from the 28 (twenty-eight) colors offered by Nassau Interiors for the squared-off Parsons table. From "House and Garden," in things like lime green, mushroom, yellow, etc. They even come in a nice parquet-top oak. Any heights, any length. How can you miss?

Beardsley matches. A tin of match-books decorated with drawings by Aubrey Beardsley. Surprisingly unspecialized for Country Mouse.

Glass tea-caddy. Carlton tea-pot holds about a gallon and is embellished in a finely-woven basket caddy at Princeton Decorating.

Birds' warmer. Electrically operated, six inches across, for birds who like a warm bath or a hot toddy to drink. Rosedale Mills, $11.95.

Electric chair. A tin of match-books decorated with drawings by Aubrey Beardsley. Surprisingly unspecialized for Country Mouse.

ing two-inch saddle. Carlton tea-pot holds about a gallon and is embellished in a finely-woven basket caddy at Princeton Decorating.

ON TAP
Or Live? Music-lovers are putting it all on tap this year. Sony at the University Store has a tape-recorder, all stereo, for $249, with provision for plugging in a tuner and phonograph.

At the Music Center on Palmer Street, they like the Kid Model Twenty-one FM receiving system, and the new KLII Model Twenty-Four. The little battery-operated Fisher radio at Music Center is pre-set for its stations, $99.95.

The radio at Tiger Auto is a clock, too. It's a GE's solid state (onecontrol with vari-amplifier (loud, soft) and a snooze bar $54.95.

University Store has the Bulova Galaxy transistor clock-radio (AM, FM) at $95. It turns on its rectangular base.

TV? Color by RCA and Zenith is at the University Store. Van Zandt has Philco-Ford's solid state color in a walnut cabinet for $229.98. They call one model "portable" (well, it is) at $159.98, but the Philco Woodstock is really portable: $129.98.

Music Center's Panasonic TV set is 16 inches square, battery operated from 12 volts in your car or boat. The Sony Micro TV at University Store, is seven inches at $115, also for your car.

Want to make your own noise? Farrington's Music Center on Route One has a DRUM SET of four pieces called the Muskeeter. It has sticky wrapping (to take all the pounding) with bass, tom-tom, snare, cymbal and accessories.

Other aptitudes will want Farrington's Organiare, the

We've commented before on the prevalence of eagles, but they seem to be around more than ever this Christmas. Conservationists may take note.

Just plain eagle. The best eagle in town is a crusty old timer who's been venerable at Country Antiques all green with age and wind. He's perched on a ball, and you could put him outdoors over your rooftop, or over your door, but we'd bring him in out of the storm and put him over a country fireplace. Primitive and lovely.

Lamp. The eagle lamp at Ivy Manor comes on a walnut pedestal and has a key you use to turn the lamp on. Someone moved it in antiquity that we are, will have to tell you what you're unlocking when you turn the key. The eagle is on top. Maybe it's his bank account.

Shells. Well, we don't stop at the bedroom. At Home Decor, there are eagle sheets, sure, but also eagles on the royal blue hamper and wastebasket for bathroom, the set with bright red pattern top and white trim. That doesn't count the brass eagle on the walnut box pieces, or the eagle quilt.

Roman eagle. This arrogant bird at Cummins Shop is a faithful copy of a Roman Legion eagle from the Wadsworth Athenaeum.

Candle scene. Rug Mart poses a wrought brass eagle with a pair of candlesticks to spread against your wall. He comes without candlesticks, too.

Ice-buckets. Happy House emblazons eagles on ice-buckets, where they must feel rather ill-at-ease. Lots of eagles here, in brass or wrought iron.

the usual way. Ice keeps its place in a bucket that has an up-ended ice-cube for a handle.

What about those bar signs? Happy House, "Please Watch Your Hat and Coat," suggests the direction of the Powder Room with a giant pointing finger asks "Hang Guns Here," and advertises from long ago, "Beer So."

Ivy Manor serves from a dark-stained pine dry sink bar. Rug Mart serves from a Pecky-grain walnut dry sink lined with copper — a more formal place than the usual.

Bar stools at Rug Mart will keep guests from going home. Black leather on dark-stained pine is nice. Manning's dry sink is antiqued green, a full six feet wide, with two low cupboards, drawers, two top drawers and white knobs.

Sterling cordials lined with satinyred, green, blue or nothing at all, are about $6.95 at LaVale's. You can get four for $32.25 in a permanent box.

Golfers will appreciate drinks served from trays with amusing golfing figures on the surface. One tray holds two drinks. The other holds either six drinks or three drinks for two people.

Cummins house-mouse slices cheese with the Oster-mix silver, which is well attached to the board. Rather like a guillotine. You set down your glass on Cummins' cork coaster, taken from the set of six held within a buckled leather belt.

One of the best-looking chairs we've seen in some time is Cummins' six tenths pint (or larger) vacuum pot with self terra-cotta, beige or lemon exterior. From Sweden, keeps hot or cold.

Viking invites you to end the evening with Hot-Billy, the "anti-hero" dart game with photographs of various politicians to serve as targets. $3.50.

A LITTLE SOMETHING Click or Candle. Accessories to give at Christmas might begin with the hanging candle holder from Little Orient in Flemington. This is made of split bamboo with a glass container for the candle.

The other Orient Shop, the one in Princeton on Witherspoon, sets its candle in a small porcelain oval, allowing the light to shine through the eyes. The black iron holder for 12 tapers looks like a black snowflake against a white tablecloth.

Cane Farm, where they make the reproduction antiques, makes candle lamps for a table, setting colored marbles in epoxy to make a cylinder of rainbow light. These are six inches high, $9 each.

Paul Revere's own lantern, hand pierced (by Paul) is at the Lenox Furniture Shop near Lambertville. Lanterns come in four patterns, and are $25 each, $27.50 electrified.

A new candlestick this year is Gourmet's Dansk silver "crown" holder, with 12 holders for long, slim candles, $15. Big fat candles, in contrast, burn in Dansk's spiked green glass holder.

Bell brass, so called because the solid brass has a "clear" ring, has been plated with silver for a pair of 11-inch candlesticks at The Silver Shop.

Hot and Black. All kinds of accessories at Happy House. Starting perhaps with the coffee travel bar; three cups, spoons, coffee pot with instant electric starter. Also four-cup travel bars for liquor, from $23.95.

the desk. Happy choices: waltzer border, datebook, diary and pen-holder in pink and orange daisies against black. Nearby is a long (18 inch) slim five inch) dark cork bulletin board.

Home Decor, across the Shopping Center, has all ways: losing pillows about, and this year, they lost teeny ones. For your houseguests, like little velvet jewels in red, black or gold. Floor pillows big enough for your houseguest, are Home Decor specialties.

Rug Mart's throw pillows for the bedroom have white ball fringe and a sunny blue print of butterflies.

Take Whose Letter? Now, about that desk: Viking tells when to stop work by a five-inch square clock with brushed chrome face and a two-inch deep rosewood frame, $40. Princeton Gift has a desk set of cut velvet in Victorian claret red, and Hinkson's has pen and datebook desk sets.

desk accessories, small pen trays, paperweights and the like, in the characteristically dark worked metal.

TURN ME ON

Light and lovely. The lamp you'll buy this year might be the ginger-jar Chimes lamp from Nassau Interiors, either in miniature, seven inches in height, or a stately 15 inches. These lamps are $29.95 to $110 if you want a really majestic one.

A bracket lamp swings out from the wall in old wrought-iron, with original hardware. At Count Antiques, it has a holder for the glass kerosene jar. At Princeton Antiques, the lamp is a Tiffany chandelier with prisms of Tiffany glass concealing the light bulb.

Viking lights its way with a four-sided box of a table lamp in clear plexiglass around a shaft of chrome. $49.95.

At Ivy Manor, they have a pair of lamps made like old lanterns, with a stately brass lamp for a man's study has a label reading "F. Edgar P.A.S. Regnier Orfèvre." So there!

Princeton Decorating brings in for your daughter's bedroom a white painted tin lamp, squared at the corners, with a pink-blue angel and little flowers painted on the white. A heart-shaped mirror matches.

The formality of Stiffel or Rembrandt lamps pleases Rug Mart, where Rembrandt has a brushed brass lamp with a glass lantern rather like Ivy Manor's. Stiffel has formal pecky woods combined with neo-classic urn and garland designs.

The light we want to take home is Johnson Electric's rechargeable flashlight at $12.95.

HAVE A CHAIR

Chrome or Mahogany. These small furniture pieces are fun to shop for. Begin, by all means with Viking's 22-inch Danish rosewood desk with little tambour top. Open the flat surface, pull out the drawer and the roll top will roll back, revealing three pigeon holes and a writing surface. Enchanting.

This shop, by the way, is laden with the chrome and glass of 1930 — and 1967. A glass-topped square table rests on three nested chrome frames of varying sizes.

At the other end of time is the early Victorian table, small and oval, with white marble top and saucy legs. It's in Hopewell, at The Black Kettle, for $35. Here too is a cherry Pembroke table, lovely and soft in tone and feel, its leaves scalloped out on the edges, $150.

Silver Shop has a minute but imperious table of French King wood, whatever that may be (newspaper table). It's kidney shaped, with two curving little drawers and the slim metal legs...!

Nassau Interiors polishes the chrome, too, chiefly on a square table with glass top resting on chrome tubing. But the shop feels more at home with a 42-inch-long crowd's loveseat, just the size for that hallway of yours.

Country Antiques invites your inspection of a desk-on-frame from Virginia with curved drawers, at $45, and a cherry candlestand.

Scholars may once have used a desk like Ivy Manor's William Ferner pine. Lift its top and keep bills inside. It's 29 inches wide, with four small drawers, size-size, set low in the side, $79.95.

Another Log. To keep your fireplace warm, make it happy with Black Kettle's fender in pierced brass. It's long 48 inches, at $35. Bowden's fireplace shop offers screens like folding French doors, with draft control that is wonderful for problem chimneys because you don't get all that smoking. Brass or black, or all brass. Brass if you need a fireplace, there's a Fire Prince, perfect.

Charm from 1845—

You can't buy them—after all, would you sell them if they belonged to you?—but you can look at them and exclaim your delight.

Children's furniture, that's what they are—carefully made in about 1845, and handed down through the same family for almost 120 years. There is a little Victorian loveseat, a classic Victorian armchair and its mate without arms. The pieces are dark walnut, carved and rubbed, upholstered in the bright Christmas red velvet of the season.

You can see them in the window of the Princeton Decorating Shop on Palmer Square, where they have been placed to welcome the season (and to show what P. Decorating can do in the way of upholstery.)

Know what they have at Johnson Electric? An electric fire-starter. You can use it —Continued On Page 28

now on a fire, next summer on charcoal briquettes.

Chair for One and A Half. Min and dog can keep warm in front of that fire with Lenox man-dog chair (wide enough for both) $159. A wing lounge chair (man alone, unless somebody wants to sit on his lap) is green and red hounds-tooth tweed, at $185.

Those reclining and lounge chairs are as traditional as egg-nog. Nassau Interiors, (at 560 Nassau), Ivy Manor, Rug Mart, all have them, in vinyl, leather, or tweed or tapes-tries.

We enjoyed a nice sit in Ivy Manor's early American room, with semi-barrel back, pleated skirt and maple armrests and lots of these at $99.95 or $119.95, depending on size.

Nassau Interiors fills a corner of a country room with a wing chair, straight mahogany legs, covered with a white and grey plaid. Rug Mart likes the country style too, and chooses a very tall wing-back chair, done with a crevel panel on its plain back.

That Shale! Vicking sticks to chrome, in a square-framed low-back chair with deep cushions of raspberry velvet. Another chrome-based chair is covered with real lambskin in grey, white or black.

Little Orient in Flemington, just perches this year, on a natural scraggy drum stool with a woven top of colored wool. Light to carry, at $9.95.

BENEATH YOUR FEET Charm. If you're making an investment for your house, let's enjoy looking at Nassau Interiors' Shale Abbas Turkish rug, a little beauty slightly less than 4 x 6 feet in delicate soft tomato reds with mustard and olive colors. Made in Germany, it comes actually in any size, and can be "antiqued," if you wish, $300, in present size.

Area rugs here might be like the acacia in black grey-white 10-inch blocks. You can play chess on it before the fire.

Farkuh brings from India a rug in an old, old Chinese design combining blues against an ivory background. French Aubertons pastels are popular with Farkuh customers, too. Mr. Farkuh likes to remind you that you can have a real, handmade Oriental, 18 inches by two feet, for $13.50. You know where they go from there... don't you? Up!

Rug Mart greets contemporaries with an acacia rug that has a navy-black background and three-fold overlapping petal wheels in turquoise, shell and royal, greens.

At The Bernard King, they call an 8 x 10 "area" rug which must mean they've got a pretty big area. "Ever-whiter" are acacia rugs that can be used anywhere, where they defy mildew, sun, rain and what-ever. Put one on a sunporch, for now.

In the Carpet Shop here in Princeton on Route One, they like a three-by-five-foot shaggy dog so fashioned that its long cut pile moves with almost every color. One comes in dark-brown tones, another in a sun-bat of different yellows, 499¢.

Here you can pick a braided rug in any solid color or combination of colors, and even the pattern.

Bahadurian spreads out two tribal prayer rugs, one in dark blues, reds and golds from Beluistan. One is three by five and one-half feet, the other is four-four by two-eight, at $150 and $125.

No snow on the rug? Check in with Van Zandt's Two Snow House 20, at $189.95, or the Yardman Snow Bird, self-propelled and heavier duty than the former, at 299.95. Cub Cadet's tractor with attachable snow-blower does the blizzards' job yet.

LODGE BY Silver, Lazen. Some of the loveliest sets you'll find dining in years to come, are from The Silver Shop's varied collection. A small three-piece Waterford cut-glass crystal set has the scale of today's snare, but the Waterford field holder and costs $60.

The English mustard pot, in silver, has a cobalt glass lining (not plastic), and dates from 1790. It's $42.

Sheffield's fruit-basket is from 1880, the pair of leather-covered silver noons are from the London workshop of Lammert in 1771, and the fiddle-shell and thread berry spoon is from 1865.

Amor—the service-plate sets at the Silver Shop is a dozen from Bavaria, with a chalice, gold flower and charming lit-blower noisette center. The Western ones or demitasse cups have minute, precise flowers on the little cups and their deep saucers.

Just a Plug of Twilight

A nice little applied science gift is something electrical that you labor or bring some light into your life. If this is your electric year, maybe your gift is at one of these stores.

Howden's Fireplace Shop. Focus electric fireplaces have plenty of portable heat, no installation required or permanently wired high-voltage heat, or you can have it just for looks.

Johnson's. Shoreline kit, from General Electric, comes in a very nice box and has two brushes, a couple of wax applicators and even shoe-polish.

Rebers. Blow a path 18 inches wide through sidewalk snow with Sunbeam's electric snow blower. It has a "machine a woman can handle." (You mean like a man?)

Van Zandt's. "Whisper-quiet" dishwasher from Philco at $199.98. Or a wash-dryer, a no-frost refrigerator or a no-frost freezer.

Tiger Auto. Hand vacuum for your car, boat, camper, trailer, mobile home or airplane, plugs into the cigarette lighter. $11.95. Suppose your car has no cigarette lighter.

Gourmet. Fan and heater can cool or heat a whole room, even though the appliance is a small one. $29.95.

LaVake. Electric! Well, Accutron has set its own mate match into a handsome gold clock frame for your desk. $148.50. The ladies' accutron watch by the way, is now on a chain to wear around your neck, and there is an e-neck to set it into at night. $175.

Dear Friend:

Princeton Hospital will open the doors to the new "J" Building before January 1, 1968. This will provide enlarged X-ray and Laboratory Departments equipped with the very latest scientific instruments, as well as 42 additional medical and surgical beds.

In order to finance the completion of this project, $1,750,000 has been borrowed. The payments on this mortgage are $175,000.

Also, the Board of Trustees has allocated funds for the establishment of a Coronary Care Unit. This unit will be completed prior to January 1, 1968.

In order to keep the doors open at Princeton Hospital, we must receive your financial assistance during our Second Annual Capital Fund Appeal. At least $175,000 must be raised this year.

So you see, we desperately need your financial help --- and we need it now. Be as generous as you can. A gift to this annual appeal is your insurance that Princeton Hospital will be able to serve you and your family when you need it most.

Yours truly,
GEORGE W. CONOVER

PEOPLE In The News

Miss Susan Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stone, 15 Aiken Avenue, has been inducted into Tau Sigma Phi, an honorary society for sophomore students, at Mount Holyoke College in Princeton. The society takes students who have shown outstanding leadership during their freshman year. A graduate of Princeton High School, Miss Stone is a sociology major.

D. A. Battigelli, chief research engineer at Columbian Carbon Co., Plainsboro Road, has cosponsored a scientific paper to be presented at the 1967 winter meeting of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers. The meeting was held the week in Detroit.

Mark Dannenhauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. S. Dannenhauer, 28 Ter-Ar Place, and a graduate of Princeton High School, will appear in vocal concerts as a member of the Barham College (Richmond, Ind.) concert choir. The choir will take its annual Christmas sing-along through Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois.

William R. Caraher, son of The Rev. and Mrs. James Caraher, 4 Marcus Ann Street, has received a varsity letter at Wheaton (Ill.) College. He was a sophomore on the Wheaton squad which compiled a 7-2 record with five wins.

Gilbert A. Bliss, son of Mrs. June W. Bliss, 201 Moore Street, is a tenor in the Washington College Chorus, which will present its annual Christmas concert in the College's fine arts center on Friday. A graduate of the Hurst School, he is a junior at Washington.

Two Princeton residents, students at Laureate Preparatory School, Bristol, Conn., have earned cum laude honors for the first quarter. Adam Hammer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hammer, 87 Locust Lane, whose average was tops on the school, is co-editor of the school newspaper and year publications and a student prefect. James L. Severson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Severson, 101 Westery Road, is a member of the newspaper staff.

Hector W. Griswold, Ridgeview Road, is competing for a starting berth on defense for the Middlebury (Vt.) College freshman hockey team. The 20-man Panther squad will play a 12 game schedule this year.

Clifford H. Cortelyou, Old Rocky Hill Road, has participated in the 68th annual Intercollegiate Lioness Judds college contest in Chicago. More than 120 students studying animal agriculture judged meat-type hogs and competed for scholarships, cameras and other trophies offered by sponsoring firms.

Airman Walter C. Ketterburg, Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ketterburg, 159 Morris Mill Road, Hopewell, has completed his basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex. The 1967 graduate of Hopewell Valley Central High School has been assigned to a technical training center in Colorado for schooling as an electronics technician.

Naval Reserve Ensign John F. Baies III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Baies II, 69 Laurel Road, recently visited Barcelona, Spain aboard the destroyer USS Sarafiel, The Sarafiel which operates as a unit of the U. S. Sixth Fleet, is scheduled to visit Naples, Italy and Genoa prior to returning to this country.

Three Princeton area residents are members of the Princeton University Glee Club, which will present the opening concert of the first Holiday Glee Club Festival Wednesday, December 13 at 8 p.m. in the Felt Forum, the auditorium of the new Madison Square Garden. They are: George T. Cates, 264 Nassau Street, senior; James A. Floyd Jr., 64 Harris Road, a junior; and William K. Wandrow, 17 Rosedale Lane, a sophomore.

Staff Sergeant Clarence R. Welsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Welsh, 55 South Main Street, Pennington, has received the Air Medal at Tan Son Nhut Prison in Vietnam for outstanding airmanship and courage on successful and important missions under hazardous conditions. Sergeant Welsh, who also served during the Korean War, has flown more than 42 missions.

Four Princeton physicians will be awarded a citation plaque for 25 years of service as a participating doctor in the New Jersey Blue Shield plan at a ceremony next Tuesday at the Trenton County Club at 7:30 p.m. The physicians are: Dr. Herman H. Ashley, 19 Bayard Lane; Dr. Paul R. Kline, Medical Arts Building; Joseph M. Rampeau, 275 Nassau Street; and Benedict R. Seassera, 164 Nassau Street.

Raymond J. Woodrow, 17 Rosedale Lane, has been appointed to the newly created position of associate treasurer at Princeton University. A senior University administrator, Mr. Woodrow will continue to serve as Director of the Office of Research and Project Administration and as executive officer of the University Research Board.

Mr. Woodrow, 54 joined the University in 1946 from the Radiation Laboratory of MIT, where he served during 1944-46 as associate project engineer and general manager for Project Cadillor, a wartime radar research development and production effort. For his outstanding service during World War II, he was awarded the Certificate of Merit by the U. S. government and the Certificate of Commendation from the Navy.

He graduated from Williams College in 1934, and received his bachelor's and master's degrees in engineering from MIT in 1937. He was employed by the Philadelphia Electric Co. until the outbreak of World War II, when he joined the Office of Scientific Research and Development of the Federal Government.

Navy Lieutenant (jg) Duke P. Deville, son of Mrs. Willard K. Smith, 14 Carter Road, is serving with Patrol Squadron 24 at the Naval Air Station in Patuxent River, Md. The squadron flies the F4A "Orion" aircraft in anti-submarine warfare operations.

Miss Lynda Geter has been placed on the honor roll in recognition of her academic achievement at Palmer Medical School in Philadelphia. Miss Geter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Bolden, 81 Birch Avenue.

Two Princeton residents currently attending Keuka College, Miss Barbara K. Smith and Miss Cady Kurtz, are participating in the school's annual field period. An integral part of Keuka's liberal arts program, the field period from students from campus studies for a month of work and study projects. Miss Smith, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Smith, Montgomery Road, Skillman, is working at the Martin and Land Grace Trust Company in New York City. Miss Kurtz, the daughter of Mrs. Doris E. Kurtz, Clarksville Road, Princeton Junction, is working with the Princeton Red Cross.

Shipfitter Third Class Frederick R. Devoe, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Devoe, Trenton Avenue, Belle Mead, participated in "Blue Lotus" naval maneuvers aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Enterprise. The exercise, the largest held by the First Fleet in three years, involved 24,000 men in 45 ships and six air units in a series of simulated war actions off the coast of Southern California.

Mrs. Glenda Richards, 617 Princeton-Lawrenceville Road, has been named consultant in Classics in the Midwest region of the American Classical League. Her duties will involve working for close cooperation between Latin teachers in secondary schools and colleges. Mrs. Richards is Latin department chairman at Princeton High School.

News Of The Theaters
the father to drop the suit, which he does and is subsequently charged with slander. The first sequence is an over-extended and tasteless joke in which a man pretends to his doctor to be impotent in order to seduce his wife. Much of the action occurs at "La Dolce Vita" type of party. English titles.

PRINCE
Point Blank (field over) Lee Marvin and Angie Dickinson star in this tangled account of underworld double-cross. The film is based upon the Richard Stark novel, "The Hunter."

Following division of the money from a big robbery, Lee Marvin is shot and left for dead by his accomplice, John Vernon, who not only makes off with all the loot but Marvin's wife as well. His grim hunt for his absconding partner is aided by a man of mystery, Keenan Wynn, who believes that Marvin's thirst for revenge will eliminate some of his own enemies. Women prove to be a reliable bait, and Marvin's use of his sister-in-law, played by Angie Dickinson, furnishes several explicit bedroom scenes. Hot sex and brutality are ramped as the camera shuttles skillfully from San Francisco and Los Angeles into the ghetto territory of now defunct Alcatraz, occasionally taking your mind, more sorry and imagination of a man obsessed with his role of avenger.

"HEAD FOR THE HILLS"
John Jay in Persons John Jay, the full-length, living color dean of skiffm makers, will appear in person at McCarter on Wednesday, December 27 at 8 p.m., with his latest full length living color ski film.

It is a head for the hills, ranging from Vermont to Japan, and stopping on the way for snow-skiing on the island of Hawaii, of all places.

Other areas include Mr. Head, Al, Asper, Crystal and Jackson Hole. The finale will be a survey of the ski "eksplosion" in Japan, where there are twice as many skiers as there are in the entire United States.

DRAMA AHEAD
For Four Christmas Four new plays will appear on the McCarter stage in repertory after the first of the year. And the current term will end on Friday, December 22 with a seasonal - more or less production of "Twelfth Night." It will be the final performance of Shakespeare's comedy. On January 5, the company will present Arthur Lithgow's production of Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice," following it on January 19 with Arthur Miller's "The Crucible" to be directed by Ken Gossigan. He did last season's Arthur Miller, "A View from the Bridge."

"The Beggar's Opera" will open on February 2, under the direction of Jon Jory, who did "Twelfth Night." Mr. Gossigan will return to be in charge of Marlowe's "Doctor Faustus," which will open on March 2.

TWO ARTISTS ON VIEW
At Flemington Gallery. The works of two Princeton area artists, Dagmar Tribble of Princeton and Jack Garver of Lawrenceville, are among several watercolors currently featured by the American Watercolorist in Flemington's Turntable Junction.

According to Paul D. McConaughy of the American Watercolorist, "the works run the full gamut from dramatic to lovely to whimsical; a number of the paintings on display have won national recognition for themselves and the artists." The show, which boasts the largest collection of watercolor originals in the country, has thrum in all price ranges from $10 to $50. In addition to the unlimited subject matter of the singular scenes, the show also features series of college paintings with more than 40 colleges represented by four or more students.

Next?
"I'm joining Edgar Lansbury to open Frank Gilroy's new play, 'The Only Game in Town' in late February," Mr. Duncan says. He remarks, flexing his adding machine once again, that Mr. Gilroy's previous play was "The Subject Was Roses."

ENTERTAINMENT LISTED
For Children. The Children's Entertainment Committee has named the four productions to be offered during its winter season. Ticket orders are being taken for the shows, which will be presented once a month from January through April.

Opening the season on Saturday, January 20, is the "Traveling Playhouse" production of "Snow White," which features a combination of actors and puppets. This show, like the others named for presentation, was selected by the Entertainment Committee last May at the Annual Showcase of the Children's Theatre Conference in New York.

Rounding out the schedule of entertainers are the Merry-Go-Rounders with their story ballets that have been so popular in recent visits, the Pickwick Puppet Theatre with a production of "Sleeping Beauty" and a discussion of puppet-making, and finally, Perival Bordo and Co. with "Folkies Dramas." The show will offer an exciting mixture of African dancing and authentic drum rhythms. Shows are scheduled for the Princeton High School auditorium at 2 on Saturdays - with the performance lasting about an hour. For ticket information contact Mrs. W. H. von Ochsen, weekdays at 821-2911.

EASY TWO HANDS: John Hummer, 6-7 sophomore, adds to his 14 point total against Rutgers with second-half field goal. He hit on 55% of his shots, grabbed a dozen rebounds and brought his average up to double figures for four games as Tigers topped Scarlet, 83-54.

SPORTS In Princeton

SOUTHLAND BECKONS
Tigers Take to the Road. Undefeated in its first four games, Princeton basketball team headed south this week for three contests which will give an early indication of its ability to win away from home. The touring Tigers must dominate a major share of their action on foreign courts if they are to repeat as Ivy champions and achieve the goal that others, at least, have imposed on them of retaining a place among the top ten in the national rankings.

Navy was on the schedule Wednesday afternoon at Annapolis. Saturday night at 8, it will be the Atlantic Coast Conference champion, North Carolina, at Greensboro, for an 8:15 tipoff. Next Tuesday at 8 the Orange and Black will face highly-regarded Duke at Durham, before a short Christmas break that will precede entry in the Far West Classic at Portland, Ore.

Of the three opponents on the southern swing, North Carolina is the toughest and will be eager to regain at the Tigers' expense the prestige lost when it was a ten-point victim of Vanderbilt Saturday at Nashville. Princeton's 91.81 upset of the Tarheels on their own court last winter turned the national spotlight on the Ivy League's projecting them into a top ten ranking which they never relinquished.

In the NCAA tournament in March, it was North Carolina which eliminated the Tigers (while Harlow sat on the bench with an ankle sprain), 76-70, in overtime.

Duke, the only opponent on the current Princeton schedule whom the Tigers have played before and never beaten, may find its six-game winning streak over the Orange and Black ended. The Blue Devils, 3-0 this season going into Wednesday's game with Virginia, lost three of their five starters from an 18-9 season a year ago.

Rutgers Trounced, 83-54.
Trashing by an little as five points toward the end of the first half and down by a respectable 11 (49-39) at the intermission, Rutgers lost all chance of keeping the game close Monday when it failed to make a field goal in the first seven minutes of the final period.

Apparently somewhat irritated by the fact that the visitors had made a ball game of it for a while, including ability by Loft Goetz to score 16 points in the first half, the Tigers applied the clannish when they returned to the floor. A runaway resulted: when the losers produced their first basket, it narrowed the margin to 58-32.

Had Captain Joe Heister played a little more in the second half, Princeton would have had six men in double figures.
He finished with a total of 8.
Chris Thomdike was high for the first time this season with 13 out of 14 free throws and a long shot goal for 15 points.

John Hummer added 14, Joe Petrie and John Harlow both had a dozen and sophomore Mike Murdy added 10 in a reserve role. Goetz finished as high man for the night, but he could not add a point to the 16
he had in the first half.

Princeton shot close to 60% while the starters were in action, falling off to 45 for the game when the subs took over.
It was the 53d victory for the Tigers, including 38 for the Scarlet as the series closed out its first half century.

Colgate No Problem. The Tigers got little opposition from Colgate at Hamilton Friday night, very nearly putting all five regulars in double figures as they whipped the home team, 71 to 43. Captain Joe Heister and John Harlow both had 15, Geoff Petrie, and

Jefferson, to Crips Tiger defensive ends led by a 3-0 week, 79 to 42 early going.
The visitors had an early eight point lead and were tied at 15-15 in the early going.
Tigerhead, however, 15-9 steadily in the latter half, out to a 37-30 halftime advantage.
The Ivy League Tigers
when play resumed, largely on the strength of a free shooting average. The contest was a good deal of a mismatch, and it is just as well that the series with Colgate will be replaced by a new one next season.

Against Army, he may have achieved a first in the long history of Princeton hockey by scoring while the cadets had a two-man advantage, intercepting a pass at his own blue line and beating the goalie on a spectacular solo effort. It was all the more remarkable because the Tigers' slim 4-3 lead at the time appeared to be in absolute jeopardy with no men in the bin for the next minute and 39 seconds. So nonplussed were the visitors by Suckey's unabashed heroics that they failed to score during the length of their two-men advantage.

Captain John Ritchie recorded the hot trick against the West Pointers. Terry Peterman adding a pair. It was a close game and Suckey broke it open at 0:48 of the final period. Thereafter it was reduced to a merely unbroken string of needless penalties as Suckey and a d whistles shimmered to record the violations.

Northeastern Game Rough. Princeton penalties, three of them major and two bringing disqualification, were called during the Northeastern game. Terry Peterman was banished for five minutes for what the referee, Vin Godzicki considered a crosscheck on the opposing goalie.

A fight between sophomore Steve Gill of the Tigers and the visitors' Ed McCarthy brought a five-minute penalty to each, followed by banishment from the game. The penalties totalled 55 minutes, as against 60 minutes of game-time, so that even though a number of them were served simultaneously, rarely were all 12 players on the ice.

Princeton's first two goals came while the losers were a man short, defenseman Bill Ramsay getting the first on a slap from 15 feet out to clinch a power play. The score came with six seconds left on the winning period.

At 5:41 of the next round, a backhand flip by forward Jerry Kearney made it 2-0. Terry Peterman assisted on both goals.

After Mike Wagins raised the count to 3-0 when Ritchie set him up nicely, the Tigers again proceeded to score twice while a man down. Suckey intercepted deep in Northeastern territory. Then the goalie bound into an empty cage out of the nets with his shot and Jon Taylor banged the rebound into an empty cage. Ramsay followed with a solo shot that began at his own blue line and ended with the puck in the net, the visitors a man logg again. The tally rose to 6-0 before the period ended, leaving the third round one of Princeton pressure (14 shots to 2 on target) and continued lightning among the participants. The outcome gave the tigers their second straight triumph over Northeastern, bringing the series even at 3-1. They will meet again Friday night in Boston in the first round of the ECAC Holiday Tournament, in which Boston College and Dartmouth are the other participants. Winners and losers play Saturday.

SCHOOLBOY HOCKEY HERE

Andover Defending Champion. The 26th annual Western Hockey Tournament will be played Friday and Saturday in Baker and Lavino Rinks, Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., will defend its title against a field which includes Taft, Nichols, St. Marks, Tabor, South Kent, Ridley College and Ontario, and the host school, Lawrenceville. First-seeded Andover will face Lawrenceville Friday morning at 9:30 in Baker Rink, with St. Marks and South Kent playing at the same hour on Lavino ice. At 11, Baker Rink will be the scene of a Ridley vs. Tabor contest. Taft and Nichols playing at Lavino.

The semi-finals of the consolation round will be held Friday afternoon in Baker Rink, with the championship semi-finals at 8 and 9:15. Further consolation contests are scheduled.

PRINCETONIAN vs. PRINCETON: Hank Schmidt, one-time three-sport star at Princeton High School, is a starting member of the Navy basketball team which was scheduled to play the Tigers Wednesday afternoon at Annapolis. A guard who averaged 11 points for the midshipmen last winter, Schmidt is captain-elect and shortstop on the Navy basketball team.

aid for Saturday morning, while the Piet Memorial Championship game is set for 2:30 Saturday.

Andover, tournament victim in 1961, '63 and against last year, has twice won the title without allowing its opponents a goal., the only American school to do so. Seeded behind Coach Ted Harrison's team are Ridley, St. Marks and Taft.

Fourteen From This Area. Fourteen residents of the Princeton area are on the competing teams, most of them graduates of the Pee-Wee hockey program here and alumni of Princeton Day School. Seven are enrolled at Lawrenceville: Bill Peterson, Mark O'Donoghue, Bill Koch, Tim Murphy, Chris Sowers, all of Princeton, Mike Moore and Berestrad Hoffman, Lawrenceville residents.

Pete Samson is the goalie on Andover's team, on which his brother, Hugh, also plays. Whit Raymond is captain of South Kent.

Amos Ene and Scott Reid represent Princeton at St. Marks, while Jim Strassenburg, who has home is in Lawrenceville, plays for Ridley. Harold Erdman and Geoff Hargreave of Princeton play for Taft, whose roster includes a former Princetonian, Jeff Griggs.

Charles R. Erdman Jr. is chairman of the tournament committee. Harrison Fraker serves as treasurer.

PHS SKATERS LOSE

To Lawrenceville. "It went just about as expected. We were in the same situation as last year. Just three or four practice sessions—not enough time to get ready."

Princeton High School hockey coach Pete Cook was discussing his team's opening game Friday against Lawrenceville. The Larries' won on their home ice, 10-1.

"We had a team heavily loaded with seniors last year and it will be a few weeks before we know what's happening. We just need more time to work out," said Cook.

Skating on the first line against Lawrenceville were John Reir, Steve Hossington and John Mueller. Jeff Delano, Mike Reich and John Lahmann played defense, while Bob McCloskey and Bruce Hartman alternated in the goal. Mueller was credited with the Little Tigers' lone tally.

PHS will play its second contest Tuesday evening against newcomer Brick Township (near Point Pleasant) at 7:15 at the Princeton Day School Rink. All PHS game contests with the exception of two will be held at the PDS rink.

MISS BRAUN VICTOR

PHS AT TRENTON FRIDAY

Opener Lost to Ewing. At the start of the first game at Ewing and at the end of every time out, Princeton High School basketball coach Larry Ivan gathered his players around him and shouted, "What's the name of the game?" "Defense!" his players would roar back.

If defense is the name, the object of the game is still to put the ball through the hoop. This the Little Tigers were unable to do with any consistency all evening and Ewing, which could, won going away, 93 to 62.

Billed as a run-and-shoot club, the Little Tigers lived up to only half their billing. They ran, all right; in fact, it looked for a time if they were going to run the Blue Devils dizzy. But as one onlooker said, "If you're going to be a run and shoot team, you've got to be able to shoot."

Not that the Little Tigers didn't have their chances. Swarming all over the court and pressing from the start, the defense-minded visitors forced the turnover after the other. In all, they peppered the basket with 50 shots in the first half. They hit on ten.

"We're a Young Team," "We're a young team," said Ivan, making his debut as coach of the Blue and White.

"We're going to get better," I guarantee it.

If changes to get by Trenton Friday, PHS will have to age considerably. Trenton, winner of the annual March of Dimes Tourney, looked impressive in unending Christian Brothers, 72 to 10 in its opener. Trenton also proved it could shoot, hitting on forty half of its shot (20 of 61). The Tornados are led by Willie Fernandez and Sandy Smith.

The game will be held at Trenton, with the variety contest scheduled for 8:30 Wednesday. PHS will journey to Plainfield.

Run Out of Gas. A series of events continued to bring down by the Little Tigers were emotionally slay-high for the Ewing game. For one, they ran out of gas.

"You ran well for two quarters," Ivan told them after the game. "But that's not good enough. You've got to keep going for four quarters."

They were in foul trouble early. Both Bob Upchurch and John Madden had four fouls by the end of the half. Ron McEwen, third high for the losers, bucket harrowed the score to 33-43. However, in the final period, Ewing with 33 Harter bombing away, poured in 38 points.

"I'm proud of you," said Ivan after as he addressed his players. "It's no disgrace to lose to a team like that."

Rightly so. Like PHS, Ewing is a young team. Dave Cuyler looked extremely good for a sophomore and Ewing is going to be tough to beat the next two years.

And what can be said for Princeton off one game? Despite its lack of overall height, it showed—if it can keep running—that it will give any team trouble. One can't help wondering what will happen when its shots start to drop.

Individually, Harter and Brooks were noteworthy. Harter, a sophomore and named defensive captain of the team by Ivan, scored only six points, but he played an outstanding game defensively and displayed a great deal of promise.

"I'm going to be a great one," he said to you, "I'm proud of you," said Ivan, after Harter had fouled out near the end of the game.

Brooks showed that he is going to lead or rank near the top of the team in scoring. He has style and that essence something that every exciting player possesses. He led the team in scoring with 16, coming in the final period and five in the first. He was hampered by foul trouble, too.

But overriding all was the evening long frustrating inability to hit the basket, the agonizing missed layup, the long push that bounded in and then out, Percentage-wise, only one out of four dropped.

What was to be the pattern for the game was set in the opening minute of play. PHS controlled the opening tip—and missed its shot. It stole the ball again and missed a layup. An after missed opportunity prompted Ivan to shout, "The score should be 6-0." Ewing got the game's first two points.

However, baskets by Ron McEwen, Billy Brooks, McEwen and defensive captain Jeff Harter pushed PHS to a 13-17 lead, with 3:30 remaining. It was to be the Little Tigers' widest margin.

After a three-point play by Ewing's Karl Harter—he led scorers with 24 points—returned the lead to Ewing, 16-13, three foul shots and a steal by Brooks brought it back to PHS, 18-15 at the end of the first period.

11 Straight by Ewing. In the second period, PHS surrendered its momentum when Ewing ran off 11 straight points to take a 33-23 lead. At the same point near the end of the third period, back-to-back baskets by Al Moring, a layup by Jeff Franzer and a steal by Harter to Madden for the

The new Trimline phone with pushbuttons that come to you

This new phone looks extraordinary. And it is. It is designed at Bell Laboratories several years ago with so ingenious idea: bring the dial to the dialer; put it in the handset. Bell people, building on the basic idea, discovering and inventing along the way, developed a compact phone with many distinct advantages—the new Trimline phone.

Touch-Tone® pushbuttons in the handset. Lift the handset—the buttons light up and come to you. And you don't even have to hang up to make more calls. You can just press the new recall button to get a dial tone.

The Trimline phone saves space. It can be placed in out-of-the-way spots, since you don't need to see the base to call.

Each Trimline phone costs just pennies a day. There's no extra charge for color. And if you want Touch-Tone service, the additional Touch-Tone charge covers all phones on your line.

POLITICS HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH ATHLETICS. Jack Conner, employee at Cousin Liquor Store, Palmer Square, and a former professional soccer player, feels that the Negro athletes planning to boycott the 1968 Olympics are making a mistake. "Politics," he says, "has nothing to do with athletics." (Staff Photo) to Hitler's annoyance, that did not mean I don't think this is an effective — or reasonable — solution.

Mrs. Sheila Hinkle, 11 Ober Road, housewife: It would certainly help them make their point. At the same time, on many of our athletes are wrong. I feel sports should be above politics.

James Edmonstone, Cuyler Hall, University junior: I respect them and their right to do what they think is right — which is just a paraphrase of what Bill Bradley said — but I don't see any practical reason for it, really.

John F. Delaney, Washington Road, construction layout: I don't see anything to be gained by doing it. Possibly they could hurt us a little bit, but I don't know if they will really. If they do, in the last analysis, they will be hurting themselves. I don't think it's in the right spirit. A boycott won't solve anything.

Paul Brink, Princeton Seminary student: I don't think it is a good thing because the world knows we have a problem in this area. There's no need to call attention to it. The thing to do is to find a solution. I don't think this is an effective — or reasonable — solution.

Joseph Grinnath, graduate college: It will attract attention on the one hand but on the other it will attract attention to something they shouldn't do. It isn't enough just to attract attention; attracting attention is not always good.

Anthony Ephremides, Graduate College, electrical engineering: I don't see how this would help the situation at all. I do think the Negro should try to do something. I realize the existence of the problem in the United States, but I don't see how this particular action can lead to any solution.

Question Of The Week

Question: What is your opinion of the plan of some Negro athletes to boycott the 1968 Olympics to draw attention to the Negro problem in the United States?

Where asked: Palmer Square.

Mrs. Sheila Taylor, 86 Nassau Street, fashion buyer: I think it's rather a shame.

They are spoiling their own opportunities rather than any thing to alter the problem. I think everybody realizes the United States has a Negro problem and this is not needed.

David Lombardero, Dodge-Osborne Hall, University senior: I don't think boycotting the Olympics is or should be relevant to the goals of the Negro, and they cannot achieve anything by doing so. By boycotting the Olympics, they are being unfair to themselves. Actually, they are negating the object of the Olympics by preventing the best competitors from the U. S. to serve on the team.

Ted Ryan, student at Princeton Seminary: I think this is a very difficult question. I think it is a tactical one for which I don't know the answer what good they will derive from it? What harm? But I thoroughly sympathize with their feelings and their reasons for doing it — representing a country where they are not granted equal housing.

Jack Conner, Hamilton Square, employee Cousin Liquor Store and professional soccer referee: I feel they are definitely making a mistake. I believe politics has nothing to do with athletics.

Ruben Johnson, 232 John Street, bus driver: I wouldn't think it's a good idea. I don't think it will help the problem going on between the Negro and the people in America.

Leonid Doroshenko, Princeton University student: I'll stand by Jesse Owens comment, when he said that back in the 1936 Olympics in Berlin, when Negroes went on to capture most of the gold medals.

MUSIC In Princeton

TERESA BERGANZA SINGS
Give Standing Ovation. The Spanish born mezzo-soprano, Teresa Berganza, present a recital at McCarter Theatre Monday night in the second Series I concert on the current season. Her program consisted of music by Monteverdi, Vivaldi, Haydn, Donizetti, Hugo Wolf, Granados, Montsalvate and Manuel de Falla. Felix Lavilla was the piano accompanist.

Miss Berganza has a fine voice, (if not a spectacular one.) The important thing however is not the artist's voice in this instance, but the way she uses it.

In her renditions of the vast diversity of styles portrayed in the music performed, Miss Berganza demonstrated her perceptive musicianly qualities from beginning to end. Her voice is not big, it even has an "edgy" quality on many of her higher notes, and occasionally her tone quality is a bit thin. But Miss Berganza overcomes these technical problems through her interpretations, whether it be in the passionate throbbings of emotions displayed in the Monteverdi aria from "... Poppa", or the flippant, coquettishness brought out so effectively in the Granados and Falla songs. Her technique is not a mean second rate. She can produce the loveliest of trills with a delicacy that is truly breathtaking. This was most evident in the Donizetti selection entitled, "La Zingara." Her diction is quite superb and her interpretation of six of Wolf's finest lieder was wholly captivating.

Accompanied "A Wizard." Through it all, Mr. Lavilla at the keyboard did more than merely accompany. He played like a wizard.

His fingers glided over the keys with such clarity and grace and his pacing of the more intimate shorter passages in the Wolf songs — indeed, in all the music presented — added greatly to the evening's pleasure. Here is a man who knows how to produce the most exquisite pianissimo on his instrument, yet still manage to catch the listener's attention.

As the evening wore on, one wished to hear Miss Berganza sing these light, charming vignettes on the night. The concert ended earlier than usual, but as always, many in the audience felt it necessary to rush out. Only a strong ovation at the end of the second encore prevented an embarrassing situation for the two splendid performers who certainly deserved the demands finally accorded them.

News Of The CHURCHES

PCUC TO MEET
For Planning Session. The Rev. Dr. Arlo Duba and George D. Cody, co-chairman of the Princeton Christian Unity Committee, have called a meeting for 8 p.m. next Wednesday, December 20, in the assembly room at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

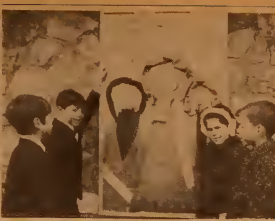

The agenda includes adoption of a statement concerning PCUC purpose and structure, and a discussion of specific plans for a Week of Prayer for Christian Unity and for the Lenten season.

Those attending will be PCUC members and laymen and clergy representing the various parishes in Princeton.

YOUNGSTERS INVITED
To Christmas Party. The annual Christmas party for community children will be held by the Sunday school of Westley Road Church at 2 Saturday.

On hand again will be storyteller Ulla Wein, founder and director of the Children's Bible Fellowship of New York, Camp Joy for underprivileged children, Camp Hope for retarded and crippled children and the new Hopewell, a year-around work for handicapped children. Games, refreshments and gifts for all are planned. Young people up through sixth grade are invited. H. C. Kemmerer is chairman. Further information may be obtained calling 924-4231.

LECTURE SCHEDULED
By Christian Scientist. Jules Cern of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship will speak at 3:30 this Sunday in Alexander Hall, Atomic clubovercome by spiritual understanding is the theme. Mr. Cern is a former advertising manager and actor, having appeared in plays on Broadway and throughout the United States and Canada. He began devoting full time to Christian Science healing many years ago and has lectured in nearly all parts of the world. He lives in Scarsdale, N.Y.

The lecture, "Christian Science: Dominion Over the Atom," is sponsored by First Church of Christ, Scientist, Princeton. No admission will be charged.

CANDLE SERVICE SET

At St. Andrew's. The annual Christmas candlelight service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will be held at 4:30 Sunday.

Members of the Sunday school will bring canned goods wrapped in white to be given to the needy through the Broadway Presbyterian an-

Church of Newark, where The Rev. James Courtney, former St. Andrew's assistant, is pastor. The junior highs have made Christmas stockings for the Rev. Hettrick's mission in Appalachian.

William Knight, assistant minister, will direct his sermon to the children, and the old, familiar Christmas hymns and carols will be sung.

LIVING NATIVITY SCENE

At Hopewell Church. A Hopewell tradition in recent years is the Christmas nativity scene for the lawn of Calvary Baptist Church, East Broad Street, on view this year from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Thursday, December 21, through Christmas Eve.

Church members surrounded by animals, form a tableau recreating the Bethlehem manger of nearly 2,000 years ago. Families from Hopewell and the surrounding communities have developed the custom of driving or walking by the living nativity scene, particularly on Christmas Eve.

Score Bandery is in charge of arrangements this year.

FAMILY GATHERING SET

By Lawrenceville Church. A Christmas gathering, starting with decorating the church and ending with a skating party, will be held Saturday at the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church. Activities begin at 7:30, with Mrs. Joseph Gidding and Mrs. Leonard Mann as coordinators of the Greenery arrangements.

A covered dish family supper is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. in the youth center. Mrs. George Neill and Mrs. Townsend are in charge of arrangements.

The Rev. H. Dana Feasom, pastor will lead a worship service at 7:15, which will include corporate Bible reading as well as coral and hymn singing.

The annual skating party, sponsored by the board of deacons, led by Dr. Cureton Harris, president, is scheduled from 8 to 10 p.m. at the Lawrenceville school rink. Richard Huston is in charge of arrangements. Tickets at $1 for adults, and 50c for children age 12 and under may be purchased from any deacon of the church.

Members of the community are invited to take part. Further information may be obtained from the church office.

BULLETIN NOTES

Where Shoes Are Fitted — Not Merely Sold

THE Wikler. SHOE BY BUSTER BROWN.

The Wikler shoe by Buster Brown has a flared and broadened fan-shaped toe outline. It's curved to follow every natural line of your child's foot. More wiggle room for toes. Provides freedom to flex, exercise and grow. A Wikler shoe is made with the very softest uppers. No irritating inside seams or stiff metal shanks to chafe or chafe. Just natural shape and give. And the feeling of "going barefoot with shoes on".

DO IT YOURSELFERS,

PLEASE NOTE

If you have dreamed about finding a quaint old house to redo, read on.

Jolly-Well Farm is an old colonial property in miniature. Over four acres with brook, orchard (Bald win apples), a working cider press, carriage house with loft and stables windmill and a five bedroom 18th century house that needs your tender loving care. Old floor boards — so mellow when waxed, four working fireplaces — including one in the kitchen, and another in the old basement kitchen, a sweeping view from most windows and lilacs in the spring by others. (Can't you smell them now?) Falling in love with Jolly-Well is falling in love with a way of life. Let us help you find the fun and the rewards of fixing up a property you can be proud to own.

Just $21,500 and ours alone.

FINAL NOTICE
Qualification For Voting Membership In The Princeton Hospital Corporation

Notice is hereby given of the requirements for voting membership in the Princeton Hospital Corporation in accordance with the By-Laws of Princeton Hospital as amended at the annual meeting of the Corporation held on February 25, 1963.

ARTICLE II - VOTING MEMBERSHIP

1. The annual payment by any person of not less than $5.00 directly to the Princeton Hospital Membership Fund during the calendar year preceding the annual election, shall entitle such person to make nominations for the office of Trustee, to one vote for each vacancy in the Board of Trustees which may be filled at any annual meeting, and to vote upon other business which may come before any annual or special meeting of the Corporation during the calendar year of the annual election.

2. The payment by any person of $100.00 or more directly to the Princeton Hospital Membership Fund shall entitle such person to life membership in the corporation and to all other privileges of voting membership without further payment.

3. Notices relative to the membership requirements of the Corporation shall be mailed to all members on or before November 1 of each year.

4. There is no age limitation on membership. In order to be eligible to vote, however, all members, whether annual members or life members, must be at least 21 years of age.

This notice is not a solicitation but is published to inform the public of qualifications for voting membership in the Corporation.

The GREATEST . . . BEST . . . FASTEST . . . How many times have you seen and heard these words in ads selling service . . . we admit, we've used them ourselves. But we have found that you can't sell a service with superlatives! We simply say that we think our TV Repair Service is merely better than adequate . . . it's only GOOD.

We have trained, competent technicians with years of experience in their profession to back that statement.

And most of all, we have many satisfied customers . . . which is, after all, our ultimate goal!

shade trees. Owner has devoted a great deal of thought and money to the modernization of this house. The result is a delightful place to live in with every modern convenience, yet the exterior and the grounds still retain the charm which always comes to mind when one hears about an old farm house in the country. And the size of the house, the proximity of the golf course, and the extremely favorable price make this one of the best buys we have on our list . . . Entrance hall, den with bookshelves, paneled dining room, living room with fireplace and built in bar, brand new kitchen, fully equipped. Second floor: master bedroom and bath, 4 nice bedrooms & bath. Almost an acre of land. (sole agent) $32,000

CLOSE IN . . . walk to University, or to N. Y. Express bus. Here is an interesting home, in an excellent location, which has living room with fireplace, dining room, powder room, kitchen and a fine new family room with entrances from foyer and kitchen. Upstairs, 3 bedrooms and a tiled bath.
Fenced backyard, with lovely trees and landscaping. This property is particularly desirable because it is where it is. The last home which was available in this neighborhood sold within 3 days after it was offered . . .
and for the full asking price! (sole agent) $33,500

CLASSIC COLONIAL . . . In nearby Lawrence, on a high corner lot, this delightful red shingled home, with white shutters and trim, is only 6 years old. 23 foot living room with fireplace. Separate dining room. Sunny family room off the kitchen, with adjacent powder room. Full basement.
2-car garage. Upstairs: 4 corner bedrooms, 2 baths. This is a spacious home in a fine neighborhood with plenty of children. School within walking distance. Wall-to-wall carpeting included. Aluminum storms & screens.
Quick occupancy as the owners are building a new and larger home and can move within 30 days. (sole agent) $36,500

FOUR BEDROOMS . . . in one of Princeton's most attractive neighboring communities, with a gorgeous view of rolling wooded countryside, this fine shingled Colonial home has white trim and shutters. One acre of land, with beautiful lawns and shrubbery and a fenced backyard. The house has a foyer with powder room on one side and hall closet on the other. Two steps down, there is a large living room with fireplace and cross ventilation. Paneled den. Separate dining room. Large kitchen with ample breakfast space, adjoining laundry and entrance to attached 2-car garage. Large dry basement. Upstairs: master bedroom with big walk-in closet, another closet and bath, plus 3 more bedrooms and bath. $42,500

HILLTOP HOME . . . built 'way back from the street, among tall trees on two beautiful acres in one of Princeton's most neighborly nearby communities, the two-story Colonial house has 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths. First floor has foyer, living room with fireplace, separate dining room, den, powder room, kitchen and laundry. 2-car attached garage. Full basement.
However, this property is much more than a nice 4-bedroom house in the country — here is a wonderful way to live . . . with a big 20x40 swimming pool, a lovely garden, complete privacy, and most of the land covered with shrubs, trees and vines so that the owner can enjoy his weekends and not dedicate himself to life on a lawnmower . . . And, perhaps most interesting of all, there is almost an acre next door which can be bought and added to this property so that a legal one-acre lot might be disposed of, thus considerably reducing the net cost of the property.
(sole agent) $49,500

LAWRENCEVILLE . . . 5 bedrooms, 2½ baths. Large Colonial, built in 1965, on a wooded acre. Entry hall, living room 13.4 x 23, dining room, family room with fireplace, modern kitchen, laundry & powder room.
Central air-conditioning. Lovely patio. This is one of the beautiful homes in secluded "Longacres," adjoining a college campus, where all that Time can do to the property is make it more attractive . . . and more valuable.
The owner has added many improvements to this property, and every mother will be delighted that there are lots of young children in this area and virtually no traffic on its quiet streets. (sole agent) $59,500

RENTAL . . . very convenient location—many of the neighbors walk to the University, and the N.Y. Express bus is only 3 blocks away. The house has living room with fireplace, dining room with bay window, kitchen with electric dishwasher, powder room and paneled den. Second floor: 3 bedrooms and tiled bath. The backyard is completely fenced. Property has nice trees and is well landscaped. $300 per month

APARTMENT . . . in the Western Section, on a beautifully landscaped property, here is a wonderful place to live. A separate building, with its own backyard and next to a swimming pool which tenants may use, the apartment has living room with fireplace, dining room, modern kitchen, 3 bedrooms and bath. No small children however, and no animal pets.
